ON HIGH SCHOOL

Dedication

Imbued with admiration for the service which you are rendering, we of Thomas Jefferson High School dedicate our 1944 MONTICELLO to you of Brooke General Hospital. We are indeed grateful if our small efforts can help in any way to forward the noble cause which you serve. Within your stately walls we feel that we are in the presence of the great, for indeed many of you have served your country in the most glorious ways. We consider it an honor and a privilege if we in turn can serve you who have served us so well. Through your unselfish allegiance to your great cause, you are helping to preserve all the things which we Americans hold so dear. No words can pay you the tribute which you deserve. Only the ultimate result of your combined efforts will be fit recompense for the self-sacrifice which you have made and are making. You who have served in the torrid jungles of South Pacific islands, you who have served in the European theatre of war, you who have served nobly within the bounds of our own land, know that because of your devotion there will come after victory a world free from oppression, a world in which the four freedoms will predominate. We want you to know that we will not forget what you have done — that we will always remember the boys who in their dread hour of danger prayed for the folks back home. All over the world American boys are fighting, but, however remote their stations, they remain close to our hearts. Wherever our boys are, America is. On the shores of tiny Pacific islands, on the sandy beaches of Salerno, in the bleak cold of the Aleutians, these men of ours, fighting to preserve our American way of life, reflect the character of America. The work which you of Brooke General Hospital are doing is a shining example of this American Spirit in action. Your deeds will never be forgotten; you will always be spoken of with reverence by thousands of American men, and we, their loved ones, will pay homage to your name.

BROOKE GENERAL HOSPITAL

FORT SAM HOUSTON, TEXAS

T. Guy Rogers, Principal
Thomas Jefferson High School
San Antonio, Texas.

Dear Mr. Rogers:

I wish to express my sincere thanks on behalf of the Staff of this hospital for the dedication of the Monticello Year Book to Brooke General Hospital. This high honor bestowed upon us is indeed deeply appreciated.

At this time I should also like to express my thanks for the many service and inspection trips made here by the Jefferson students. The earnestness and enthusiasm of these young people in trying to do their "bit" for those men who have already given so much to the cause of freedom should certainly not go unnoticed. The unusualness of such an undertaking is most commendable and I am certain there may be permanent good results from the work these students have done in their efforts to lend to the existing high morale of our patients.

I trust that the friendship existing between the Thomas Jefferson High School and Brooke General Hospital will grow stronger with the years.

Sincerely yours,

GEORGE C. BEACH
Brigadier General, U. S. Army
COMMANDING.

Our principal, Mr. Rogers, greets General Beach on our stage at the assembly dedicated to the General.

Our Service Flag

A GROUP POEM BY THE ENGLISH VIII CLASSES OF MISS GRACE HUEY

A blue star in a gleaming white field bounded by a wide red border —
Fragments of colored silk, yet much more.
The white field—endless expanses of sea and sky wherever our boys may be.
The wide red border—prayers and the loving thoughts of the folks at home.
And the blue of the star—our boys and girls on the fighting fronts—our friends, our classmates,
The little chap with the grin on his face, the boy who lived next door.

In the blue of the star — thousands of men in thousands of ships, plowing steadily through dangerous seas;
Mosquito boats streaking the splashing waves; submarines stealthily stalking their prey.
Giant carriers, on guard as havens of refuge; and mighty battleships blazing with thundering guns.

In the blue of the star—long, silver wings in cloudless skies;
Shadowy bombers on coast patrol monotonously circling—alert against the foe;
B 17's roaring their song of power and victory in fog and snow over cold, grey mist-hidden islands, where an angry, surf breaks on a rocky shore, and a lone bird cries;
Millions of tiny flecks in the sky, laden with human cargoes of steel nerves, patience, loneliness, and the drone of deafening motors.

In the blue of the star — our fighting men on a wide-flung battle line;
Bronzed Marines landing on white, sandy beaches of palm-strewn islands, struggling bitterly foot by foot;
Tired, grimy men cutting through dark, steaming jungles, or silently waiting in desolate foxholes;
Engineers building bridges mid flying shrapnel, and fighting men sloshing through mud and the rain;
Tanks and artillery rumbling through narrow streets, past adobe huts or historic shrines.

In the blue of the star — long lines of marching women, women in fighting men's garb, standing shoulder to shoulder with brothers and sons, serving their country for freedom's sake;
And the gentle hands of the "Angels of Mercy," soothing the stricken, easing the pain.

A gold star now rises above the blue one—.
A shining symbol of brave hearts and heroic lives given in sacrifice that we may be free;
A challenge to us that from the sunset of their lives must come the dawn of a better world than the one they knew.

This is our tribute to our companions and friends,
Our pledge that we are firmly behind them until the war is done—
A blue star of hope and a gold star of faith on a gleaming white field bounded by a wide red border.

Within these stars are all their stars enshrined

This year has brought America a realistic revelation of the life and activities of her fighting sons of liberty, a knowledge at first hand of the adventures and sacrifices made on the fighting fronts of the world. No longer are combat casualties merely a part of the printed story of young Americans' courageous deeds; they now hold for us a far greater significance. These valiant men who have given so very much are now returning, not to the homes of their former lives, but to great institutions that have dedicated themselves to the tender care of those who are most deserving, our wounded soldiers. In every part of our country today these men are being received with warm welcome by the military hospitals of America; and you, Brooke General, are a link in the chain of these healing homes. Aroused in the heart of every student in Jefferson High School is an undying feeling of gratitude and admiration for these heroic men. In order to express the vigorous patriotism which this feeling inspires, we of Jefferson have chosen to do all within our power to extend our friendship and our services to these boys in your great hospital. This we have accomplished through the many service trips of our school organizations. It is the purpose of our 1944 MONTICELLO to feature all of the activities of our students—not only their life at school but also these service trips, which have brought to the boys in the hospital many hours of pleasant recreation and cordial companionship. We sincerely hope that this edition of our MONTICELLO has furthered this warm relationship between our Thomas Jefferson High School and Brooke General Hospital.

Very picturesque is the executive entrance arch, intricately carved and framed in graceful evergreens.

Shining Symbol of Beauty

Proud sentinels of learning, these regal columns stand guard over our main entrance.

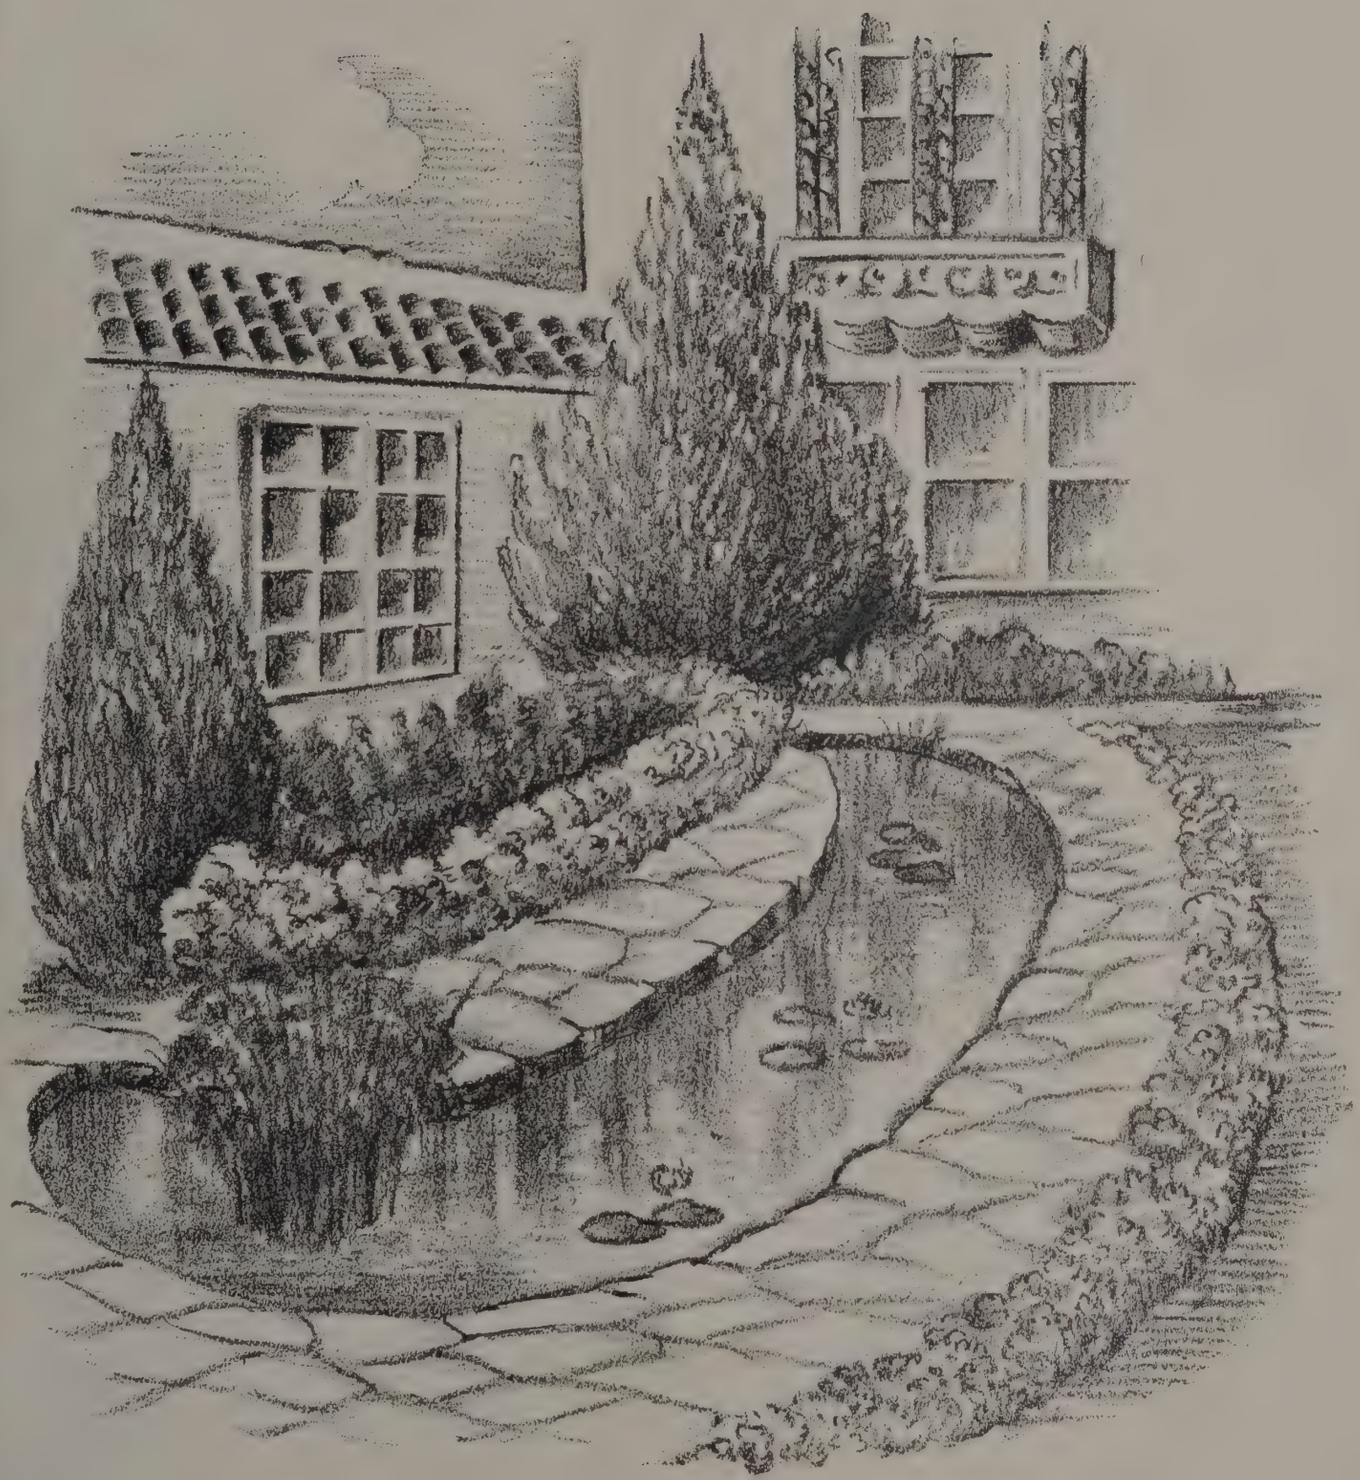

Framed in lacy loveliness is our cafeteria entrance, bearing our school's dignified coat-of-arms, the motto of true democracy, "In Omni Uno."

A lovely sight is the azalea bed, part of Jefferson's beautifully landscaped campus; visitors from far and near admire its rare beauty.

White of building, blue of sky, green grass and shrubs, myriad hues of flowers -- all are mirrored in the crystal waters of the Shelton Patio pool.

Through the triad of massive doors of Jefferson's imposing main entrance shine the brilliant rays of the sun, forming an impressive pattern.

Even more beautiful when viewed from the air is our majestic school, its carefully tended grounds spreading afar over its thirty-three acres.

Wondrous morning — our campus a glistening white blanket, our school a fairy palace.

Afternoon — lengthening shadows, myriad footprints, silent evidence of our elation.

As we know him best---

Above: — At his office desk Mr. Rogers is always ready and eager to listen to our plans and to help us with our problems. Right (upper): One of the beautiful rose gardens of our school is a natural setting for our principal, for the rare beauty of Jefferson's campus is due to his careful planning. Right (lower): "May I have your attention, please? This is Mr. Rogers speaking." These familiar words bring almost 2,000 Jeffersonians into close contact with our beloved leader.

Jefferson's Commander-in-Chief

An invaluable friend as well as a wise and trusted leader, he personifies in his gentle yet forceful character all that means Jefferson to us. Imbued with a rare feeling for beauty, an unusual sense of fairness, a wise spirit of toleration, a complete understanding of our joys and our problems, a fine spirit of co-operation, and unusual executive ability, he guides the destinies of our beautiful school, occupies a sure place in our hearts, and is an inspiration to all of us. * * * Throughout the thirteen years of Thomas Jefferson High School's life as a school, a great school which has been pushed to the very fore in the eyes of the nation, he has constantly guided the establishment of precedents and ideals and traditions that have been spread abroad over the nation by the ex-students of Jefferson and thus have meant much in the enrichment and ennoblement of countless thousands of our American citizens. * * * We salute you, Mr. Rogers, our good friend and our trusted leader.

Best wishes to a friend

Aides To Our Commander

Mr. Raymond W. Arnold

A rare sense of humor, a thorough understanding of young people, a determination to help every student who comes within his sphere of influence--all these have made our Vice-Principal and Dean of Boys our friend as well as a vital member of the executive staff of our school. Though new to Jefferson in a difficult war year, this friend of ours has given unsparingly of his time and strength and, in doing so, has won a sure, strong place in the heart of everyone. Jefferson would hardly be Jefferson without Mr. Raymond W. Arnold.

Miss Frances Smith

Not only in her office but also throughout the school the wisdom and friendliness of our Dean of Girls is felt. Among her many fine qualities are serenity, tolerance, understanding, and efficiency. No conference with Miss Smith is ever time lost. She is never too busy to listen to our troubles or to find a solution for them. In the hearts of the many students of Jefferson a memory of her will last forever. Now, in these trying times, Miss Frances Smith is doing her part more than ever in meeting the war emergency.

★ Faculty In War Work ★

Although teaching itself is considered very important war work because of the many added duties that the war has brought, most of our Jefferson teachers are also engaged in volunteer war work of all kinds. Among these are (1) Mr. Raymond Arnold, who teaches crafts and industries in an Occupational Therapy section of Brooke General Hospital, (2) Miss Julia Oliphint and Miss Frances Smith, who, since almost the beginning of the war, have been Nurses' Aides, with regular hospital service, (3) Mr. Leon E. Taliaferro, shown with one of his pupils in his government drafting course, (4) Miss Pearl West, Miss Florence Crowell and Miss Gladys Morgan, all of whose U.S.O. service records are very high, (5) Miss Miriam Bass, whose thousand or more magazines sent every week to Brooke General Hospital started with collecting magazines for troop trains early in the war, and (6) Miss Ruby Dugosh, who teaches arts and crafts in an Occupational Therapy section of Brooke General Hospital.

Senior, junior, and sophomore class presidents, representing our student body, make their "thank you" call on Lieutenant Colonel Wyrick, Adjutant of Brooke General Hospital, to express their gratitude for his co-operation in securing photographs of our students visiting important sections of the hospital.

Wards and CLASSES

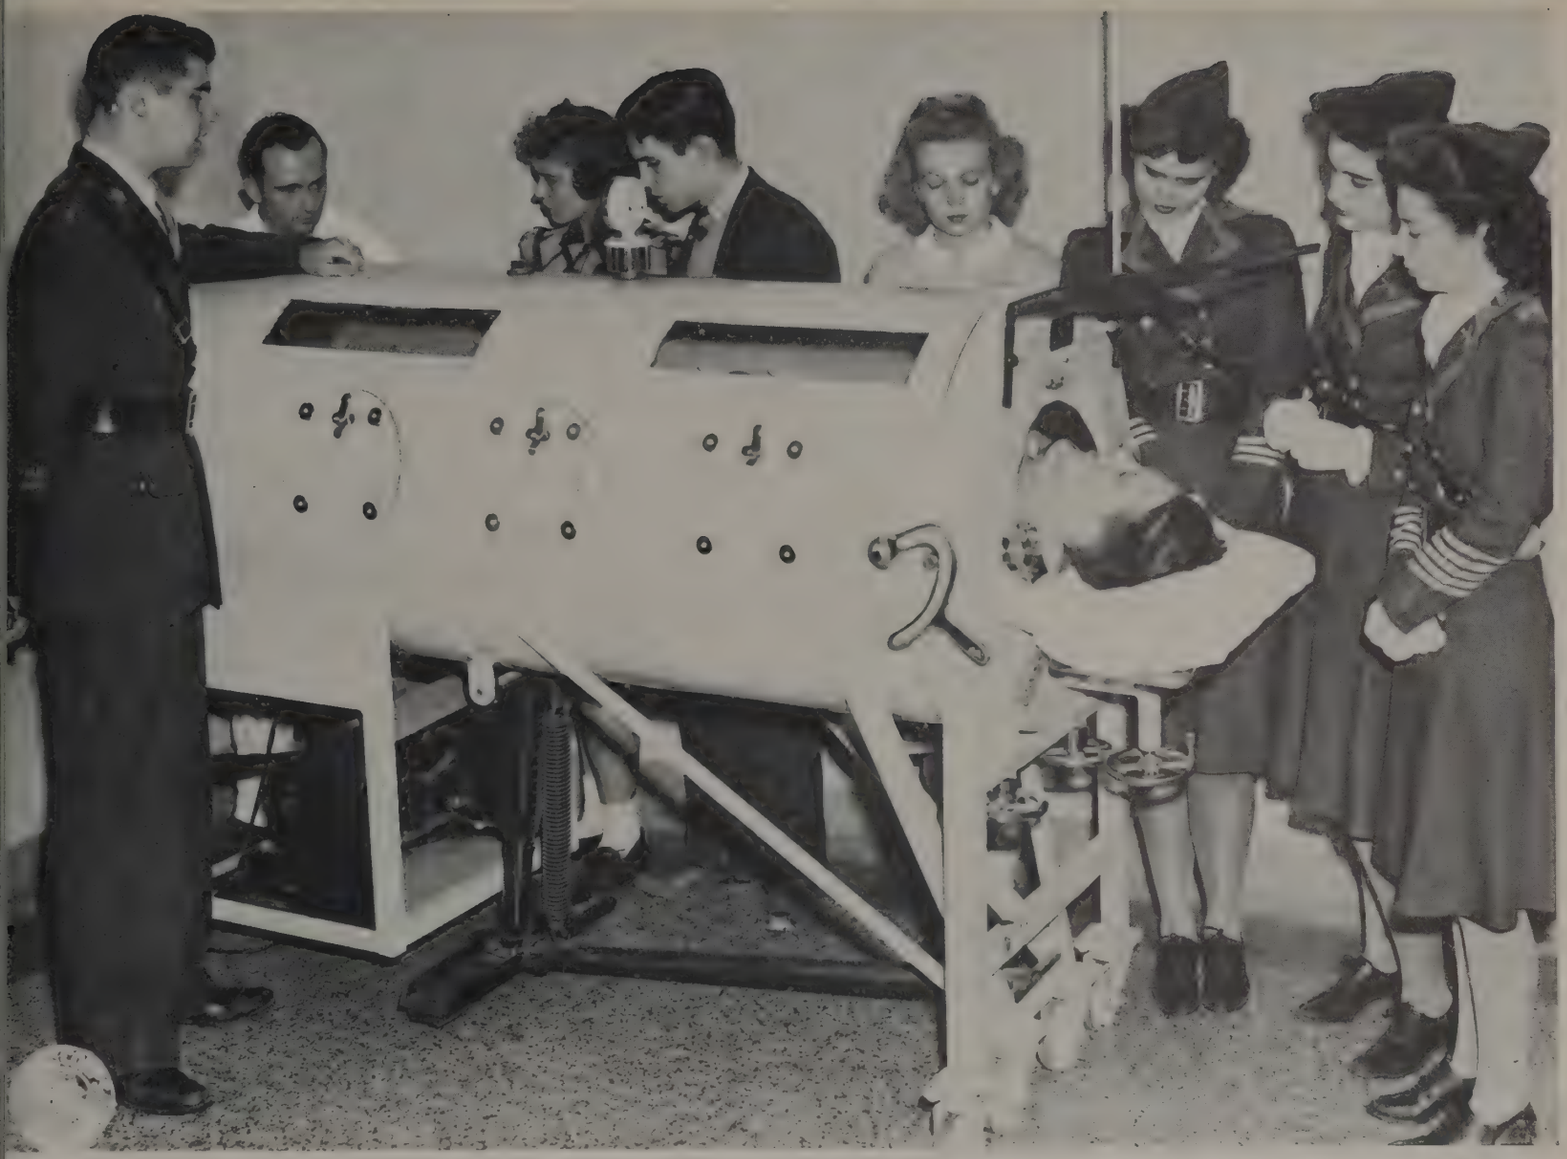

That's what advisory is for!

History of The Class of 1944

September, 1943—Under the capable leadership of President Dick Creamer and the class sponsors, Mrs. Frances Chadwick and Mr. T. A. Abbott, the class of '44 started a successful year. October 21, 1943—With the appointment of two committees, planning and publicity, preparations were made to give the Senior Frolic. November 11, 1943—The Senior Class announced its intention to sponsor the waste paper drive, formerly sponsored by the Student Council. December 9, 1943—The long-awaited Senior Frolic at last was presented. Jaga Long's Jazz Band, the Bull Durham Booger Band, and several talented singers and dancers were only a few of the very enjoyable acts presented. January 10, 1944—Due to the labor shortage, the Senior Class took over the responsibility of keeping the cafeteria clean. January 26, 1944—At the first mid-term graduation ever held at Jefferson twenty-two seniors received their diplomas. Following the graduation exercises, the Senior Class honored these boys with a social in the Student Council patio. February 3, 1944—The Senior play, "A Murder Has Been Arranged," was selected by the class to be given in May. February, 1944—When President Dick Creamer left Jefferson to enter college, Charlotte Whitfield took over his duties with a promise to try to continue the good work of the class. The class motto, "Haec Olim Meminisse Juvabit," was chosen; the gardenia as class flower and green and white as class colors were decided upon. March 28, 1944—As a fitting climax to a very successful paper drive, a picture show was presented to students who brought twenty-five pounds of paper or ten pounds of magazines. May 19, 1944—The Senior play was successfully presented to delighted audiences. May 25, 1944 — Class Day and the lovely theater party! May 26, 1944 — Junior-Senior Prom! This was a day never to be forgotten. May 28, 1944 — Commencement Sunday services! All of us felt the solemnity. May 31, 1944 — Graduation Day! Tears and smiles!

History of The Class of 1945

October, 1943—The Class of 1945 was organized under the capable leadership of the sponsors, Miss Ximena Wolf and Mrs. Esther O. Fuller. February 17 — The Jefferson students were thrilled when they heard that the first Junior Class project was to be presented—a picture show entitled "The Fleet's In." March 4 — Many members of the Junior Class went on a Monticello-sponsored trip to Brooke General Hospital. They came away from the hospital with a feeling of sympathy, a feeling that those men must not have suffered in vain. As a result their project to furnish a room for Jefferson's ex-students who are now in the Armed Forces developed. In this room a file will be kept of all teachers, their rooms, a register book, a file of school papers, a class schedule, and a scrapbook of the boys in service. This room will be dedicated to our boys and girls in the service of our country. After the war the room will be used as a broadcasting room. March 17—The whole school turned out for the big Junior Class dance. This was as big a success as all of the other Junior Class activities. April — The Juniors thoroughly enjoyed the picnic that was held at Olmos Basin. They not only enjoyed playing baseball and other games but also enjoyed eating the delicious food. Everyone was sorry when this happy day came to an end. May 26 — The Junior-Senior prom was a huge success. With the soft lights of the gym and the long, swishy evening dresses of the girls, there was a feeling of sadness—a realization that the seniors would soon be leaving for good and that the juniors would be assuming their responsibilities.

September 9—The annual assembly to welcome new sophomores was held, with the whole school extending warm friendship to its future leaders. The class met their new principal, Mr. Rogers, who gave them a welcoming talk and presented our school's official family—Mr. Arnold, Vice-Principal; Miss Smith, Dean of Girls; and Mrs. Parker, Attendance officer. The Sophomore Class is under the capable leadership of its two sponsors, Miss Mamie A. Brawner and Miss Julia Oliphint. The class held its first meeting in the library, at which time officers were nominated, the voting being carried on later by secret ballot. December 16—This was an exciting week in Jefferson, all sophomores eagerly trying to outdo each other in the number of vases, jars, and coffee containers brought for their next interesting project. One enthusiastic sophomore brought sixty-four jars. December 23—Representatives of the class, on a Christmas service trip, took one thousand bouquets of beautiful Christmas berries to many wards of Brooke General Hospital. February 15—Officers of the class made an inspection trip to the Brooke General Hospital and were photographed viewing the classic facade. March 15—The sophomores started a school-wide drive to collect playing cards, magazines, and joke books for the wounded veterans. In each advisory the names of the contributors were placed on the advisory Honor Roll. The drive was not ended until the specified one thousand veterans had received at least one of these articles. The big event of the year was the grand Fiesta party. This gala affair was held in the gym and in the patio. There was dancing in the gym to the latest tunes in the juke box. Games were played in the patio. Tamales and cokes were served afterwards.

Attaining a first place rating, the "Jefferson Declaration" continued its high standing in the National Scholastic Press Association contest, sponsored by the University of Minnesota. Dick Portwood, sports editor for the "Declaration" both this year and last, was the only high school sports writer in the United States to win fifteen dollars for a story in the "Scholastic" magazine, he having written the best story turned in. The same contest announced that Tom Portwood, editor of the "Declaration" won two firsts in Texas—in news and editorial—and Earleen Holleman won first place in Texas in feature writing. Bob Harris won a medal for best work in current events in the final "Quill and Scroll" contest. All of these honors came in too late to be announced in last year's Monticello. This year Jefferson was the only high school to win two medals in one Quill and Scroll contest, Dick Portwood winning in sports writing and Ann Ricks winning in a feature on "The Books I Would Take with Me to a Foxhole." Three journalists who are to have poetry printed in the Anthology of Texas High School Poetry are Frank Rosengren, Ann Ricks, and Alice Burney.

September 9 — The club elected very satisfactory officers. With the help of Mrs. Lorena Davis the club started its important work, promoting interest in aerodynamics and in preflight training. Lectures of various types were given by club members as well as officers and men of the Army Air Corps. October 5 — Kenneth Gold gave an excellent lecture on aircraft identification. October 13 — The club attended a lecture by Sergeant Wade of the Medical Division of the Army Air Corps. October 19 — An attractive club emblem designed by Manuel De Larrea was accepted. November 2 — The club decided to have a towline glider contest. A talk on model airplane construction was given by Lee Roy Parker. Jean Brown talked on the Civil Air Patrol. November 16—Assistance was given to members having difficulties with the construction of their gliders. January 23 — During the glider contest a small number of gliders crashed as a result of a very strong wind. Lee Roy Parker won first place with a high time of fifteen minutes—believe it or not! Our members are busy and happy.

With Mr. Leon E. Taliaferro, our present sponsor, as its capable charter sponsor, the Architectural Club was organized in 1932 and has continued its successful progress as a live school organization ever since. September 31 — At this first meeting Bob Lane was chosen to be president, and we have all been well satisfied with our choice of not only our president but also all of our other officers — Robert Spoede, Robert Booton, Lon W. Travis, Donald Stone, and Douglas Tiner. October 21— The club planned its outing, an annual jaunt to be enjoyed in the near future. October 29 — At last it happened! The club held its outing on the Scenic Loop, every member enjoying the occasion. November 18 — The club organized a bowling team, which met every Saturday morning, also a sports team, which played after school throughout the year. May — At this last meeting we were all very sorry that our activities for the year were over, for they had been a source of pleasure to us all. All the members looked back over the year with fond reminiscences. We will never forget our club days.

★ Edison Science Club ★

October 5 — The first meeting of the fall term was called to order by our sponsor, Mr. H. Y. May. The constitution was read and all technicalities were explained to new members. Officers were elected and Wilmer Hoyer became our leader. October 19 — Fire—its history, importance, and control—drew our undivided attention as the first scientific program of the year was presented. November 2 — Mr. May enriched the scientific knowledge of his "brood" with a thoroughly detailed study of glass. A demonstration of glass etching was given by Leonard Hoefgen. November 16 — A program of mathematical oddities and problems was presented by Ben Scholl and Leland Smith. The members delved into the discussion of the quadrature of the circle and the determination of the symbol "pi." January 4 — The sky was the limit! The determination of stellar distance by several methods and a general discussion of the mysteries of the universe captured our interest. May — After an interesting year we were all sorry to leave behind the good times we had had in our club.

October 28—The Euterpeans, one of the musical organizations of our school, had their first social. Held at the home of the club's secretary, Elizabeth Jones, this lovely event drew a large attendance. First the club's business was taken up and voted on. Then the fun began! Dignity gave way to sheer fun, as taffy pulling became the order of the day. Then cokes appeared, and the party was complete. December 14 — The second social of the year took place at the home of Shirley Schroeder. After the meeting had been called to order and the club's business had been discussed, the members settled down to the enjoyable business of eating cookies, cokes, candy, and nuts. After the club's musical activities for the Christmas season had been planned, the meeting was adjourned. Our club, organized in Jefferson in 1932 by the late Mr. Francis de Burgos, then Director of Music, is one of the school's oldest organizations. Capably directed by Mr. Jerome Zoeller and our new sponsor, Mrs. Estaline Mayfield, our club has been very successful this year.

★ Fine Arts Society ★

January 21, 1941 — The Fine Arts Society grew out of our many fine art classes here in Jefferson. Frances Brinkmeyer, our first president, and Helena Hurst were the principal founders, under the sponsorship of Miss Dugosh. Outstanding members of the past who have succeeded in the world of art are Charles Thompson, Menno Wells, Jerry Regier, and Leslie Kolhenbrener. September 28 — Officers were elected to lead the club. It was decided to have celebrated artists as guest speakers. November—Among the most famous speakers was Sergeant Wade, a Danish artist, who is very renowned at etching. Members voted to make pictures for the Red Cross. December — Fifteen paintings were sent to the hospitals to help bring cheer to the soldiers. Many of the members, such as Jeanie Williamson, Rose Elizabeth Nathan, Margie Sue Harlow, Joan Hierholzer, Janice Clarke, Virginia White, and Martha Nunn entered the Southwest Texas Regional Scholastic Awards contest. We hope that the future of the Fine Arts Society will be as successful as the past.

September 14 — A successful year began for the Euclidean Mathematics Club. The first job with which our organization was faced was that of electing good officers. Everyone was well pleased with the selection. With a successful group of old members and of new ones just admitted, the year was off to a great start. October 9 — The big social of the year was a picnic at Olmos Park; everyone heartily enjoyed the informality of this outdoor meeting. The delicious hot-dogs, baked beans, cokes, and chocolate cake really added zest to the gathering. November 9 — The Math Club decided to direct its efforts toward aiding the war effort, and our first activity was a contest of collecting magazines for soldiers. The boys challenged the girls, and each group made an excellent showing. The contest was a great success. January 11 — The boys ate heartily at the social which the girls so gallantly gave at the home of Jean Baldwin. Tamales, cokes, and fritos were thoroughly enjoyed by all hungry members. January 26 — During the illness of our sponsor, Mrs. Helen M. Bolton, the Math Club sent her lovely red carnations with their sympathy, and several members visited her in the hospital. February 8 — The spring term began with another very important meeting. Officers were elected, and they resolved to do as well as had the old ones. Thanks were given to the past officers for their faithful service. To aid the war effort and to show a small part of our appreciation of the splendid worth of the overseas veterans at Brooke General Hospital, the club decided to make scrapbooks consisting of jokes and cartoons. February 12—An enthusiastic group made a service trip to the hospital; our joke books, magazines, and candy were received very gratefully by the wounded veterans. April — The Math Club's annual competitive examination was given for the graduating seniors, great enthusiasm marking the contest. May—The last of good old high school! The graduates looked back at the unforgettable good times. "There is a School We All Love Well" sounded throughout the room as proud Math Club members finished another successful year in our loved school.

April 26, '43 — New members of the Girls' Cadet Corps reported for drilling for the first time. May 3 — The old sponsors entertained the new cadets with a coke party on the arcade by the Skelton patio. Cokes, fritos, and doughnuts were the main topic of interest. The girls enjoyed meeting our perfectly grand sponsor, Miss Gill. May 7 — Amid soft lights and roses the new cadets received their coveted commissions. The proud and happy officers danced the first dance with their dates. September 20 — The Girl Cadets really started the new organization with an enthusiastic bang. We selected Adjutant Major Nancy Bowen as president. November 7 — We had our picnic at Olmos Park. There were numerous games of football and baseball. Most enjoyed of all was the food. November 18

— After one week of anticipation Friday night found our mothers and fathers guests at Open House, the program beginning with a precision drill by the Girls' Cadet Corps. December 15 — We reported for review on one of the coldest mornings of the year, only to be pleasantly surprised by the announcement that there would be no review. Later we "reported for duty" only to find another and more pleasant surprise awaiting us, a lovely coffee honoring the Corps, with Miss Gill as hostess. January 30 — Sunday afternoon the Cadet Corps girls honored their mothers with a lovely tea at Nancy Bowen's home. April — The perfection of drilling both on Field Night and at Federal Inspection was a credit to the organization. May — The new cadets were announced. They were awarded their commissions at the Military Ball.

Rogers, an accordion solo, three numbers by the sextette; also the entire Glee Club sang a few selections. December 12—We sang at the Jefferson Heights Baptist Church, where we were received by an appreciative audience. December 14 — At the P.T.A. meeting we sang a selection of Christmas carols. December 16 — A group of us went to the Brooke General Hospital to cheer the boys up by singing Christmas carols. The boys received us warmly, and when we left, we were proud that we had played our part in easing their loneliness. January 27 — At mid-term graduation we sang two songs. February 13 — The Glee Club again sang for the Brooke General Hospital veterans. February 19 — A wonderful picnic was held at Margaret Schultheis's home in the hills. We barbecued wieners, roasted marshmallows, drank pop, and ate loads of other good food. After spending most of the day hiking, playing games, dancing, and taking pictures, we all agreed that picnics are fun! We are proud of the service we have given and pleasure we have received.

September 8 — At the first meeting of the new term we elected our wonderful mascots for the coming year — Marjorie Towery, Martha Cart, Betty Gene Smith, and Betty Brenan. September 24—A long-awaited event finally happened. The Haynes were the first boys' club to give a dance in the Jeff Gym. This dance, a big success, was really enjoyed by all the members, and our lovely mascots were really appreciated. September 30—The Haynes and the Senate opened the Tri-Club basketball season in the school gym with a hard-fought game. Hayne members were proud of their team, which won the game 43-13. October 10 — Another basketball game was played, this time between the Haynes and the Jeff Forum. The Haynes won 25-6. October 20 — The three-day initiation for the Hayne pledges started. The pledges, with their red and white caps and big red ties, could be seen shining shoes, eating peppers, and doing chores for the old members. October 23 — The pledges gave a wonderful social at the

There were plenty of cokes for everyone and all the food we could eat—doughnuts, sandwiches, cookies, and candy. January 20 — The Haynes elected their officers for the new term, with Dick Baugh as president. We hated to see the old officers go, for they have served us splendidly. The Haynes again completed another season of football as winner of the Tri-Club championship. We were undefeated and untied during all of our games, which included a 34 to 0 victory over the Jeff Forum. We also had a successful basketball season. March 3 — The Haynes turned out en masse to give the wounded veterans at the old Brooke General Hospital recreation room a splendid program and hundreds of good magazines. March 11 — Our mascots extended an invitation to their social at the home of President Dick Baugh.

September 15 — Orderly, efficient, and full of vigor, our proud leaders held the first meeting of the Jeff Forum. Everyone agreed that our choice of officers was excellent, and members looked forward anxiously to another important year for the club. Our new sponsor, Mr. Rupert Sprott, immediately began to give the club much valuable guidance and to be a true friend to every member. October 6 — At last! The Forum had its popular initiation. With spectacles, shine boxes, candy, and gum, bewildered pledges performed their duties, much to the amusement of everyone in school. October 13 — The announcement that the club was to have a table in the cafeteria pleased club members. At this meeting the coming sale of yearbooks was discussed, and the president urged the members to sell as many as possible. October 27 — The Jeff Forum banquet at Wolfe's Inn was a memorable event. A superb chicken dinner and melodious music appealed to all, and our lovely mascots were presented with shiny pins. November 17 — Jon Jorgenson and Ray Pummell were elected to play on

The Radio Club, one of Thomas Jefferson's most energetic and progressive organizations, has gone far during the short time it has been in existence. It has built, and is now operating, W. J. R. C., the first high school wired-wireless station in the nation. In addition to this the Radio Club has also put the school's inter-communication system back into working condition. When the club was first organized, Miss Remy, its sponsor, did much toward the instruction of the radio beginners. Upon her leaving the school to serve overseas with the Red Cross, Mr. W. E. Montgomery was asked to sponsor the Radio Club. It was under his guidance that the club built W. J. R. C. Most of the newcomers to the Radio Club have built one-tube sets, and a few of them have begun construction on their wired-wireless transmitters. Fred Lightfoot, first president of the club, was the one who set the spark that turned the Radio Club from repairing other students' receivers to the new wired-wireless field. The hope of the club is that every one of its members will join the "San Antonio Wired-Wireless Network."

The Jefferson chapter of the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools was chartered in April, 1932, its chapter number being 1,238. The constitution was drawn up by our two charter sponsors, Miss Marie Helland and Miss Olga Vogel. October 14, 1943 — The thirty-one juniors chosen in April, 1943, organized. At this meeting we voted to help the teachers issue War Ration Book No. 4. November and December — We were unable to hold our meetings, but we assisted the faculty and the Student Council in one of the most interesting and most important projects of our school year, the mailing of Christmas cards to Jefferson's former students who are in the Armed Forces. February — A delightful social was held at the home of Mary Margaret Calhoun, where we enjoyed tasty sandwiches and cokes. April — Our initiation was held with newly elected members feeling as proud as the old members of their high privilege of becoming members of the National Honor Society. Members elected as juniors in the spring of 1943 conducted the impressive ceremony.

The Latin Club is one of the oldest organizations in Jefferson. It was founded in 1932 by ambitious Latin students in Jefferson and is sponsored by Miss Pearl West and Miss Gladys E. Morgan, the charter sponsors. October 4—The club began another successful year at this meeting, held in the Student Council Patio. New members tried to see who could get the most autographs of the old members. Agnes Barnes and John Brooke were the ambitious winners. At this meeting Mary Anne Lewis was elected secretary. Delicious refreshments of punch and cookies were later enjoyed by all. December 17 — Gertrude Henry Kone and her mother were charming hostesses of the annual "Saturnalia," the Christmas party. With the cooperation of Miss McFarland and the cooking classes the Latin Club planned to provide candy and cookies for the overseas veterans at Brooke General Hospital during the Christmas holidays. Members volunteered to visit the hospital on these days. An amateur hour contest was held, and the winner, Betsy Gammill, was given a beautiful Latin Club pin for her very clever

Christmas social was held. We enjoyed the delicious ice cream and wonderful cookies. Equally enjoyable were the barrels of fun. September 15 — The Senators chose their mascots at the first meeting of the year. Chosen were Louise Coston, Charlotte Whitfield, Nancy Bowen, and Betty Patricia Towery. September 29 — This meeting was taken over with the election of twenty new Senators to carry on our good reputation. October 6 — The Senators proudly elected by acclamation Miss Mattie Sharp Brewer as our new sponsor. October 20 — Receipt books were presented to the members as the Monticello started its annual sales contest. October 22 — Solemn initiation of the new members was held at the home of Billy Clegg. October 27 — At Olmos Park the fun-loving Senators froliced together and learned to know each other better. November 17 — The athletic committee announced at this meeting that the Senate had won the Boys' Tri-Club championship in basketball. December 15 — It was announced that the Senate had won the Monticello sales contest, with the highest percentage ever made in Jefferson, 512 per cent. For twelve years out of thirteen the Senate has won this contest, in which our whole school engages, with Nick A. Saigh coming in second for the individual selling the most annuals. December 17 — Another super Senate social was held in the home of Tommy Burns. We had fun and laughter and food for everyone. January 19 — Election of the mid-term officers was held. Now leading us is Bobby Monroe. To assist him are Nick A. Saigh, John Mlynarczyk, Powell England, Tommy Burns, Robert Rascoe, and Joe Williams. January 20, 1944 — The first all-boy show ever to be given in the history of Jefferson was given today. The crowd was in an uproar over "Truth or Consequences," staged by Charles Parker, master of ceremonies. The crowd was utterly amazed at the magnificent performance of Charles Sawtelle, Joe Ruby, Wayne Hoey, and Bill Chumney as violinists. Also on the musical side of the show was the marvelous orchestra of Jack Balderas. The last scene saw the Senators paying tribute to the former Senators now serving in the Armed Forces. May — We closed a very successful year of honors, pleasures, and happiness with a little sadness.

★ ★ Shakespeare Literary Society

Founded in 1912 in Main Avenue High School, the Shakespeare Club has always been one of Jeff's outstanding Wednesday clubs. Today our club is under the capable supervision of Mrs. Mary E. Hickman. October 6 — Fifteen girls were sworn in at a social in Janell Crain's lovely home. We thoroughly enjoyed the refreshments, luscious cake, and punch. November 6 — All of Jefferson turned out to attend the exciting backward dance given by the Shakespeares, M.J.R.'s, Thespians, and Skeltons. As each club chose one senior, one junior, and one sophomore as its honorees, we decided that our lucky boys should be Oscar George Fegan, Robert Grieder, and Kyle Rote. December 15 — Shakespeares turned in neatly finished utility bags for the Red Cross. January 15 — The Shakespeares really "went to town" on the waste paper drive, and on Saturday, the last day of the drive, Shakespeares with the Senior Class to help keep the cafeteria clean. This drive, like most others sponsored by the Student Council, was a big success. All of the members are proud to have had a hand in getting the fine cooperation of the students. December 15 — The Student Council sponsored the annual Christmas cheer work which is now a tradition in Jefferson. Much was done for many needy families. Hundreds of greeting cards were sent to Jefferson graduates who are in the Armed Forces. Personal messages were written on the cards by the boys' former advisers at Jeff. These cards seem to have reached those for whom they were intended, since many letters of thanks and appreciation were received from these former Jefferson students during the next two months, and it made us very happy to know that our cards were a source of happiness to our boys now stationed all over the world. January 12— Due to the efforts of the Student Council, Jeff Students were able to use Jeff stationery with a watermarked mustang.

Under the guidance of the Senior Class the organizations of Jefferson enthusiastically took over the responsibility of the paper drive. Every week-end saw Jefferson students in old garments canvasing downtown districts for scrap paper. The rivalry between organizations brought forth unexpected energy and high sense of duty, although each person worked not for himself nor for his club, but for his Country. The realization that the work we were doing would be of immediate assistance to our Country was the source of much pride among our students. It was for this cause that we worked so hard, gave up precious Saturdays, missed our Sunday naps, learned the art of bending, studied the advantages of a square knot, met strange people, and, best of all, realized the blessings of honest labor. Our drive was successful because of this fine attitude, which each person adopted. The entire school was proud of our success.

Now in its thirteenth year, the Reserve Officers' Training Corps of our Thomas Jefferson High School is of greater importance than before because of the national emergency. The Corps consists of students taking military training under War Department supervision. Although it is not part of the Army, it is a vitally important element of the national war effort. Body poise, mind poise, leadership, courtesy, discipline, organizing ability, clear thinking, and respect for authority — these are all acquired by membership in the R.O.T.C. * * * Becoming proficient citizens, learning to be leaders, developing strong characters, having a healthy respect for law and order, engaging in training for useful citizenship — these are the real purposes of the R.O.T.C.

The band begins to play; cadets step off with the left foot and bring their rifles to right shoulder arms as officers give commands. Snowwhite gloves flash back and forth. More than any other group the R.O.T.C. band is responsible for the success of our reviews. From the moment they sound the "Adjutant's Call" until they lead the corps as it passes in review they set the pace. Through their inspiring music they create an atmosphere of pride and seriousness which serves as the only outward expression of the inner feeling of each cadet. They are the spark about which the R.O.T.C. revolves. They are the pulse of the organization, for they create the feeling and the beat by which the corps moves forward.

In the training of the rookies lies the secret of the success of Jefferson's R.O.T.C. In his first year a cadet is taught the duties of a private in his branch. He learns that he must be at a certain place at a certain time, that there is authority he must respect, that there are duties and details for which he is daily responsible. As a second year man he exercises a limited amount of leadership; also during this year he receives special training preparatory for the officers' test, given late in the spring, as a result of which, together with other requirements, the officers for the next year are chosen. As third year men the cadets are given authority in the regiment, both as commissioned and as non-commissioned officers. The cadet officers are actually in command of their companies, staffs, and battalions. They then have the splendid opportunity of being responsible for maintaining the high standards which they have already helped so much to uphold. These ideals are easy to maintain with each company having weekly inspections both of military appearance and of military knowledge, the year's work culminating in the important Federal Inspection, at which time the winning of the Red Star is traditional in our R.O.T.C.

Who is responsible for the fine performance of our Reserve Officers' Training Corps? Is it the officers? Is it the non-coms? Is it the cadets in ranks? Not anyone alone! Without the co-operation of every man in the regiment, the high rating attained by the R.O.T.C. would be impossible. With all its achievements and honors, however, the R.O.T.C. would have fallen short of its purpose had it not made progress along the lines of military science and tactics, as no achievement is attained without effort. Truly America is safe in the hands of our country's cadets.

To our leaders, to the student body of the school, and to our ever appreciative principal, Mr. Rogers, whose interest in the school's military work is always so deep, and to the countless others who have been an inspiration and a help to the R.O.T.C., the cadets offer deepest appreciation and sincerest thanks. Their greatest desire is that they may bring more renown to the school by the winning of even higher honors in the future. To that end they will lend their every effort. The Reserve Officers' Training Corps will truly march on with Jefferson.

(1) The P.T.A. executive committee, led by the president, Mrs. J. D. Williamson, find it easy to smile as they pause in the midst of their work; the committee is composed of Mrs. Bryan, Mrs. Gardner, Mrs. Wulfe, Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Etheridge, Miss Smith, Mrs. Young, and Mrs. Lewis, seated from left to right, while standing are Miss Douglas, Mrs. Harrison, Mrs. Harrel, Mrs. Kenney, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Scofield, Mr. Arnold, Mrs. Haltom, Mr. Rogers, Mrs. Carnes, and Mrs. Setzer. (2) Supervised by Mrs. J. B. Etheridge, War Activities Chairman, and Mrs. W. J. Bryan, Supervisor of Canning, 7500 cans were put up at Jefferson during last summer, but the knowledge received here prompted the canning of about 15,000 more cans outside school.

School Service ★ ★

Our principal, Mr. Rogers, put up 200 in addition to helping dozens of parents with their canning. (3) Members chat gaily during the P.T.A. luncheon. (4) On Founders' Day six of Jefferson's eight former P.T.A. presidents serve in the receiving line: Mrs. Middleton, Mrs. Pool, Mrs. Japhet, Mrs. Stille, Mrs. Smith, and Mrs. Carnes. (5) Mrs. Williamson and other members of our ever faithful P.T.A. dedicate a camellia bush on Founders' Day. (6) The meeting comes to order as Mrs. Williamson opens another P.T.A. session in our Little Theater, at which meeting the year's outstanding accomplishments are reviewed for the members, and the student leaders speak concerning the school's activities.

Eagerly Awaited Days

Club initiation week! Truly this is one of Jefferson's oldest traditions, eagerly looked forward to annually by members. Upper: "Need a shine, Mr. Arnold?" These two promising young pledges of the Hayne and Jeff Forum, Dan and Dick, on that hilarious first day of the club initiations, work hard in proving their ability to take the responsibility of membership. Lower: Senate pledges borrow their mothers' hats and go to work shining the shoes of their club officers. By the "old" members' faces it is obvious that they are remembering their own "shoe-shine" days.

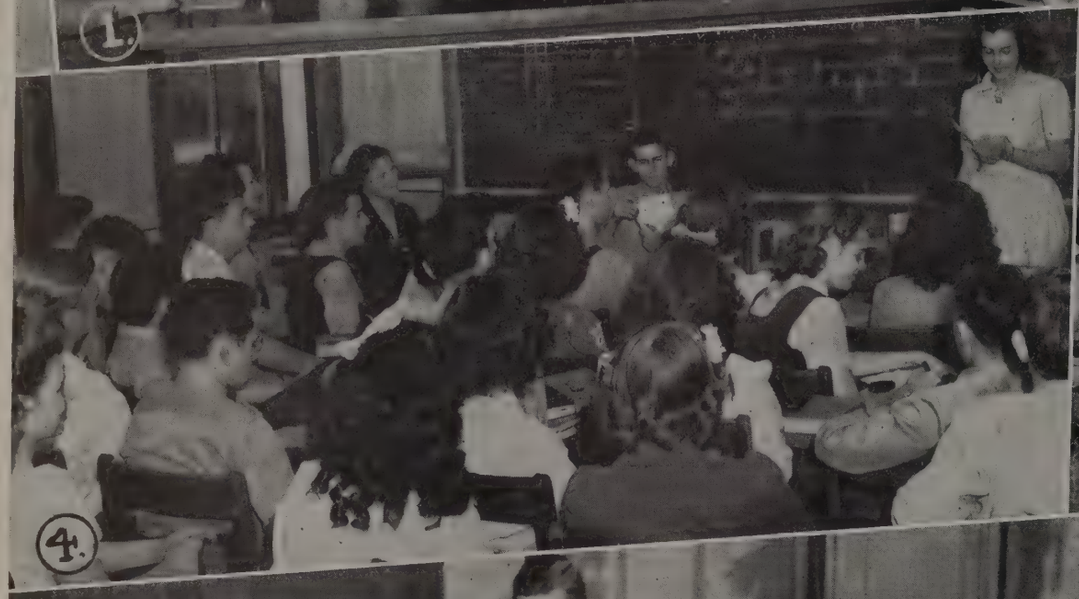

Truly Appreciated

(1) Library assistants give splendid school service. (2) Special assistants learn how to receive and mark books of all types under the capable leadership of Mrs. McCutcheon, school librarian; this trains them for accession work in the future. (3) Checking books in and out is a difficult job at any time, but it is done very well indeed by our Jefferson students under the excellent supervision of Miss Kelly. (4) Miss Morgan finds the important work of checking the attendance roll a job done with smooth efficiency by the capable and enthusiastic library helpers. (5) Keeping the files straight is a vital factor in keeping our valuable library in good order and excellent condition.

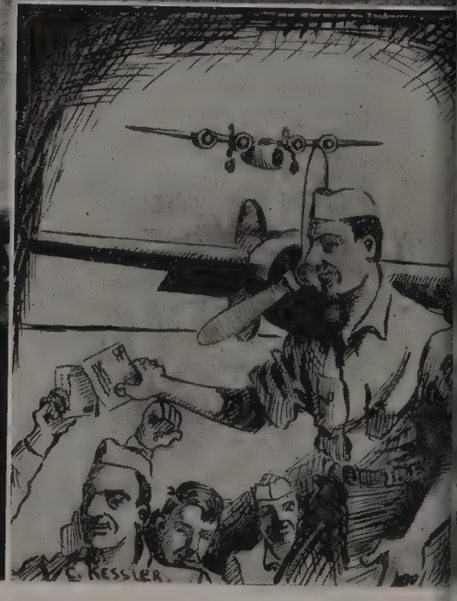

Because eight of our school advisories were one hundred percent in P.T.A. membership and because the P.T.A. was so marvelously co-operative in our splendid project, dreamed of and originated by Principal Rogers and carried out on a tremendous scale by everyone in school, of sending Christmas greeting cards to our former Jeff students now in the Armed Forces, we doubly honored those eight advisories by the staff photographer's visiting them for a pictorial glimpse of our project as it was being carried out. (1) Miss Pace's advisory members eagerly address greeting cards. (2) A deep interest is aroused in Mrs. Davis's advisory over such a wonderful project. (3) Every member of Miss Bass's advisory co-operates in packing these Christmas greeting cards for overseas mailing. (4) Long before Christmas Miss Pearl West's advisory receives the first answer from an appreciative former advisory boy in the combat zone. (5) The Math Club terrace proves an ideal setting for Miss Crowell's advisory to read about the success of Jeff's Christmas greeting cards. (6) Miss Durrett's advisory president reads one of their many appreciative letters. (7) The Weaver advisory, the Monticello Staff, is proud as Editor Bill Simcock shows Mrs. Williamson, Mrs. Mitchell, and Mrs. Cox one of their beautiful letters from a former Annual Staff member. (8) Members of Miss Gill's advisory listen intently to letters which are still being received late in the spring.

★ From the Isles of the Pacific

Late in November we celebrated the one hundred sixty-eighth anniversary of one of the most famous organizations in the world, the United States Marines. (1) Yes, the Marines have landed at Jefferson. Mr. Rogers and the Reserve Officers' Training Corps boys smilingly meet the Pacific war heroes, who are in charge of Marine Captain Andrew R. Davis. (2) The Towery sisters, Betty and Marjorie, are greatly honored to be introduced to Sergeant "Wild Bill" Feigle, the "most decorated Marine," by their uncle, Corporal H. E. Towery. (3) Our Mr. Rogers and the high-ranking officers of the Girls' Cadet Corps proudly greet four of the women of the newly organized Texas unit of the Women's Marine Corps Reserve; Lieutenant Frances Jackson, organizer for their unit, is the envy of all our girls. (4) Eleven Marine heroes just back from the Pacific battle zone give the Jefferson student body a rare treat by their telling of their startling experiences. (5) Students are enthralled as a marine tells them about his fighting experiences at Guadalcanal. As we went away from the auditorium and back to our classes that day, we had in our hearts a deep feeling of gratitude for these splendid men.

★ ★ Our School's War Work

Long will we remember how enthusiastically our classmates and friends threw themselves eagerly and tirelessly into every phase of war work engaged in by our school that memorable 1944 year of the turn of the tide in the war; each one of our Jeff boys who entered the Armed Services made us all the more service conscious. (1) Shakespeare Club girls comb the city in search of vital waste paper. These energetic girls bring in hundreds of pounds of paper to tie for first place in the school's paper drive. (2) Robert Phansteel models one of the flannel robes made by Miss Hughes's Red Cross sewing class for the men in the Army hospitals. (3) The successful Sophomore Class drive for magazines and games is one of utmost importance to the morale of Brooke General Hospital convalescents; proud students, their own names on the Service Honor Roll, pack a few of the magazines and games for another shipment to the hospital. (4) Spending a very enjoyable evening entertaining the patients at the Kelly Field Hospital, these Lassos are living up to their splendid tradition of being a Jefferson service group. (5) Under the supervision of Sergeant McClure and Miss Gill the members of the Girls' Cadet Corps Rifle Team learn the art of rifle fire, a very important phase of WAC and WAVE training. (6) Assisted by Miss Bertha Jimenez, here busy typing out War Bond applications, patriotic Jefferson students buy a training plane with their bonds and stamps.

A New Significance

Military affairs are now highlighted, made much more dramatic than in former years. In the Armistice Day parade our Jefferson boys and girls seemed to feel that new significance. (1) Marching proudly, our R.O.T.C. boys and the U.S. Army pass each other at the U.S. Post Office corner as they pass in review. (Our photographer, George Reiley Sikes, caught excellent shots in this and the third one.) (2) The proud girls of our Girl's Cadet Corps, led by Colonel Jeanie Williamson, show excellent military training and bearing.

To Armistice Day

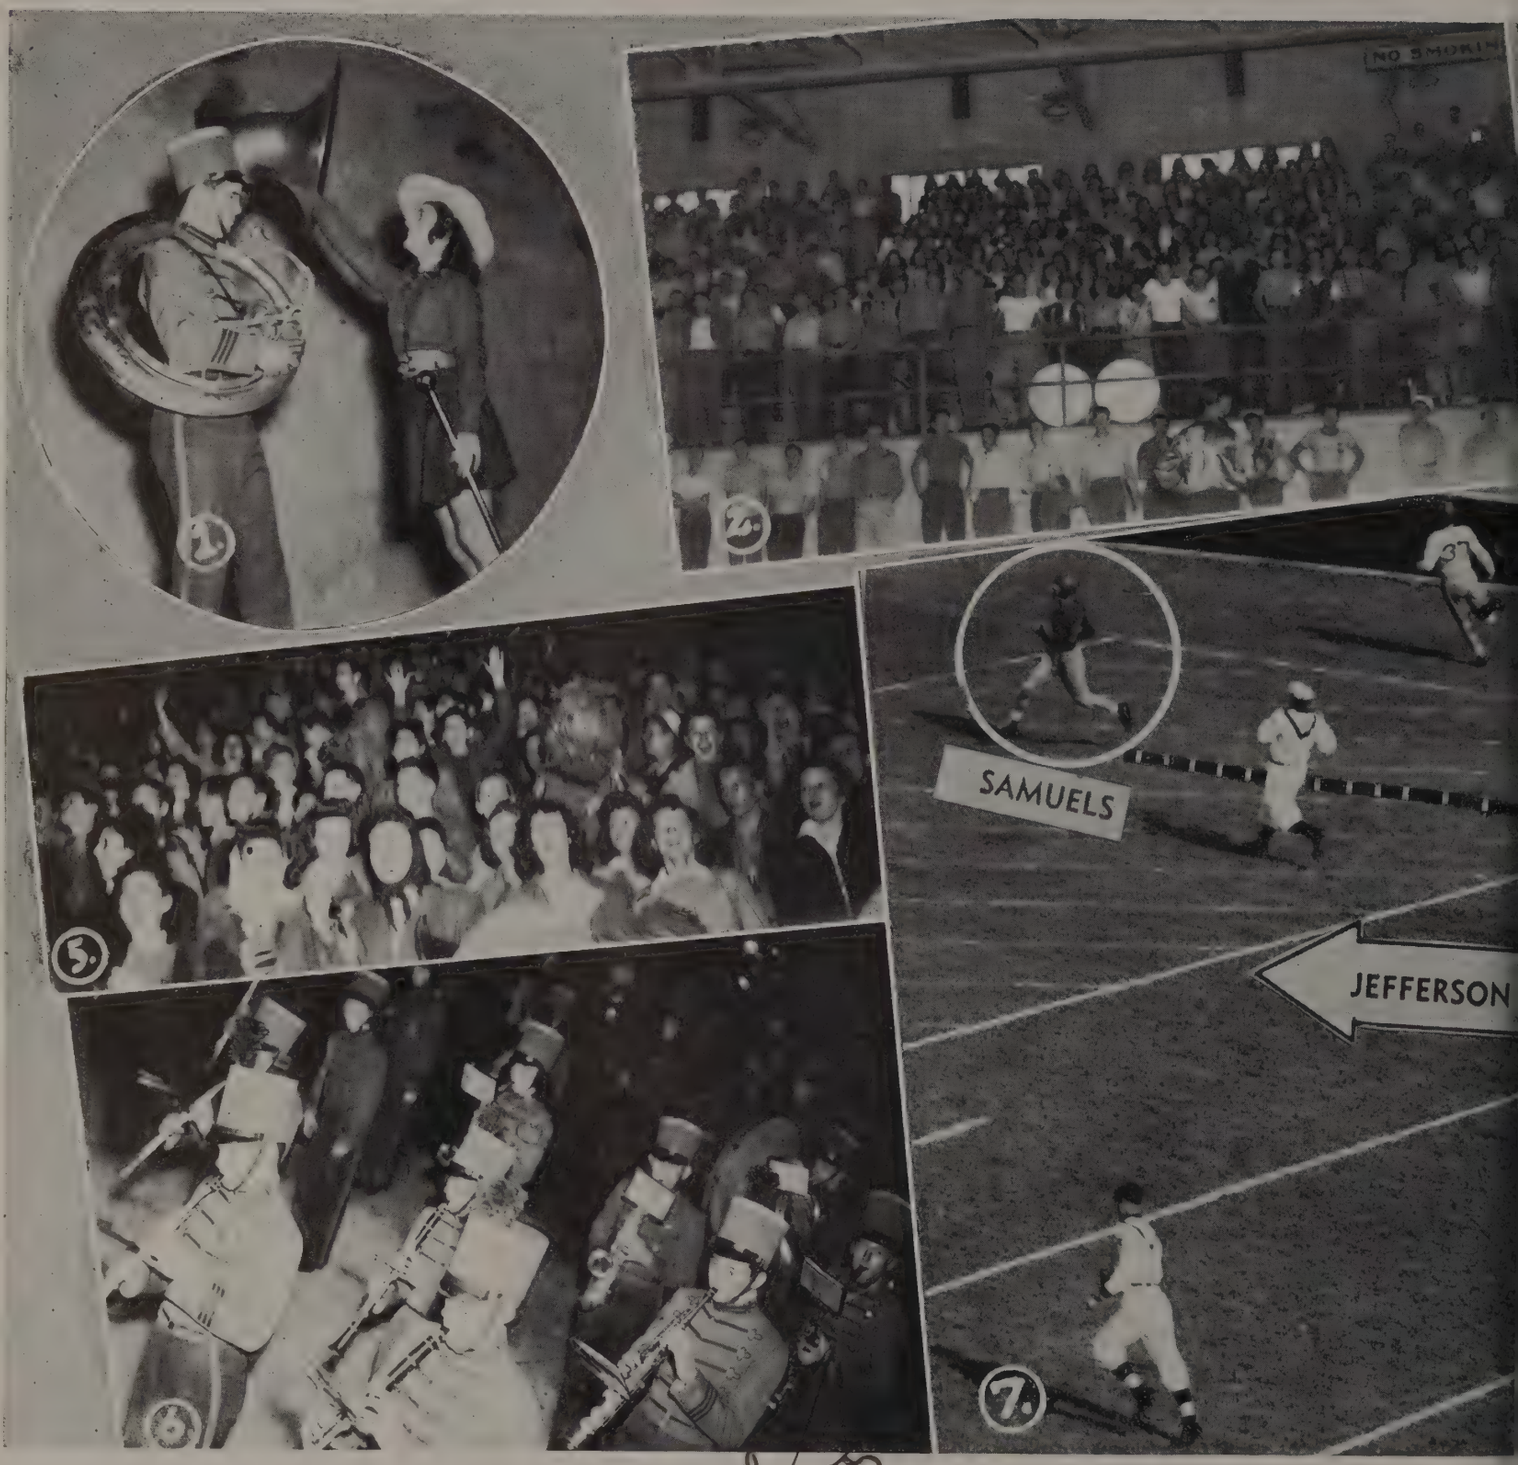

ARMISTICE ★ DAY

(3) Interested Americans observe our Jefferson boys as they march with a lively cadence. (4) "What do you do in the R.O.T.C.? You march; you march; you march." Such is the slogan of Thomas Jefferson High School's Reserve Officers' Training Corps. And very well indeed do our fine boys demonstrate to those on the sidelines that they have learned much about marching.

★ ★ Enthusiastic Jeffites

Real football spirit — that's Jefferson! How we do appreciate our hard working winners! How we do pack those stands at all the football games! (1) Edith Mae, Lasso drum majorette, finds that Bob's tuba is really monstrous, but who should know this better than Bob? (2) "Fight that team across the field." The entire school turns out in real Jefferson style for a pep rally in our gym to show the team our faith in them. (3) Many enthusiastic Jeffites invade Kerrville to give our team their hearty support at the Jeff-Kerrville game. (4) Even our School Band must allay the pangs of hunger. (5) "Hold that line; oh hold that line!" And they did. (6) In full regalia our band opens the game with "The Star Spangled Banner" as we stand at solemn attention. How could we have a football game without our School Band? (7) Amid the cheers of the enthusiastic spectators, Perry Samuels flashes over the goal line for the winning touchdown of the Jeff-Brackenridge Thanksgiving Day game. (8) The Eagles find the going tough as Jefferson's Shefts stops a Brackenridge play. (9) The referee is still wondering what happened. (10) As always, Mr. Rogers and Mr. Arnold share the bench with the anxious boys of the team. (11) The Lassos and members of the School Band take time out for welcome relaxation. Who could deserve it more? We will all long remember those thrilling football games in a year packed with excitement of all kinds.

★ Star-Spangled Christmas

(1) Notes sent to parents of former students now in the Armed Forces, requesting the present addresses of their sons and daughters, are addressed by these fine girls, supervised by Miss Jimenez. (2) Members of the Girls' Cadet Corps also address the cards. (3) Sophomores collect a thousand jars for red berries for the patients at Brooke General Hospital. (4) Jefferson joins the orchestra in singing Christmas carols. (5) Cooking classes pack delicious confections to send to service men. (6) Sweet voices of the Girls' Glee Club ring through the halls, telling all of us that the Christmas season is here again. (7) The Girls' Cadet Corps

With A New Meaning

members enjoy a coffee, given by Miss Gill. (8) Latin Club members get the real Christmas spirit at a party at Mrs. Kone's lovely home, where they observe the celebration of the Christmas Saturnalia and perfect their plans for their Christmas week service at Brooke General Hospital. (This service of the Latin Club was the inspiration for your Annual's dedication to Brooke.) (9) At the School Band's Christmas party happy students exchange gifts.

Our Monticello Party

Starting the series of Monticello-sponsored programs at Brooke General Hospital early in January, the entire Monticello staff gives a lovely party in the Red Cross hall: (1) The delighted smiles on these young veterans' faces indicate their enjoyment of the program. (2) Peggy Dornberger, our attractive Mistress of Ceremonies, draws the earnest attention of the soldier audience; Peggy does a splendid job of announcing our entertaining program. (3) Bingo! Dorothy Ann Dillahunty, Martha Ann Caldwell, and Marilyn Maier liven up the game played by a group of delighted veterans; they seem to be very much excited over the outcome. (4) One of the most thoroughly enjoyed parts of the program is the Bull Durham Booger Band, playing some of the familiar hill billy songs; this band, led by Melvin Popham, is the highlight of the evening, as veterans are not satisfied until the band has played everything they know. (5) Patricia Van Rensselaer and Ellis Albaugh III try their hand — and their feet — at jitterbugging; they are putting on a remarkable act. (6) Peggy Cloud, another one of Jeff's sweet and talented singers, wins the hearts of the patients with her beautiful voice; she is accompanied by pianist Cecelia Esserick.

(1) As the mid-term comes to a close, once again the students wait eagerly in line as members of the Student Council check in state text books. (2) Registration day finds many students waiting in line for their favorite teachers. (3) These students seem relieved and happy that they have finally reached the inside of Mr. Sprott's room. (4) Lutz, Sparkman, and Fegan converse with Doctor Jacobson, guest speaker at one of our many assemblies. (5) Dick Prassel, an ex-president of the Haynes, and his wife are heartily greeted by the mascots at the Hayne dance. (6) A wedding tea, honoring Mrs. Campbell, is given by the members of the faculty in the teachers' cafeteria; Miss Finney is pouring coffee. (7) A large and enthusiastic crowd of Jeffites gather in "Ye Olde Gym" for the annual Hayne dance, an outstanding affair each year. (8) Jefferson teachers and students help issue Ration Book Four at various public schools; here Miss Gladys Osmon and Mrs. Salomay Harrison are being aided by Nancy Bowen, while (9) R.O.T.C. cadets, Robert Spoede and Taliaferro Cooper, ably assist Miss Florence Crowell. (10) The famed magician has Mr. Rogers as well as the Jefferson student body amazed with his astounding feats of magic.

Imbued With The

(1) Several mid-term graduates in caps and gowns meet in the conference room before receiving their diplomas. Later in the day, at a mid-term graduation, these twenty-two fine boys receive their diplomas: Melvin Allen, Herky Bernard, Fred Coopwood, Jr., Albert Hammel, Albert O. Hensley, Randolph Hewitt, Andrew Hodge, Wilmer Hoyer, Jon Jorgenson, Richard L. H. Keeling, Loyd William McCaskill, Jr., Henry McCorkle, Robert W. Mickler, Ken Miller, Leslie R. Neal, Jr., James Rae Preece, Verl Ray Pummill, Fred Russell, John Warren Schattenberg, Leland Smith, Robert H. Wallace, and Jordan Zesch. (2) With eagerness many of the senior boys listen to a Naval official as he explains many vital points in the V-12 program and the prospective future of a young man in the Navy. (3) Red Cross work has captured this group of senior girls as they make shoes, utility bags, wash cloths, and bathrobes for the service men. (4) Proudly packing utility bags which they have finished for the Red Cross, the Shakespeare girls smile cheerfully. (5) Imbued with the spirit of service, these Lassos board a Red Cross ambulance to Brooke General Hospital, where they are going to present one of their many entertaining shows. (6) This contributor to the school's paper drive had no trouble in finding willing workers to unload her car.

Spirit of Service

Hospital Service Trips

Such a surge of patriotism there is as warm-hearted Jeffites, eager to do their bit, go on lovely service trips to Brooke General Hospital, to which our yearbook is dedicated. (1) In the Surgical Ward, members of the Math Club receive the unexpected pleasure of being musically entertained by a patient, Sergeant Howard H. Minton of Texarkana, on their trip to Brooke General Hospital. (2) "Open wide" is the command given to this startled but pleased young veteran just back from the fighting front by some attractive girls on the Latin and cooking classes' visits to the hospital during Christmas week. (3) Lovely Marjorie Towery has never sung for an audience so appreciative as are these fine young veterans from the combat zone; the trip is an enjoyable occasion for the Skeltons as well as the boys. (4) On St. Valentine's Day the generous M.J.R.'s present a welcome doughtnut-filled Valentine to a wounded veteran. (5) Shiny red berries, a symbol of our Christmas spirit, are distributed by the sophomore class to one thousand patients in the annexes. How these berries do bring cheer to the boys! (6) The loyal members of the Jeff Forum are making sure the hospital patients have plenty of the gifts they have brought for them.

Our Enthusiasm Runs High

Again we converge on Brooke General Hospital, our interest at a high point. (1) Happy faces of interested Shakespeare girls, watching a ping-pong game in the recreation hall of the Brooke General Hospital, help cheer hospital convalescents. It means so much to these boys to know that those who cannot fight appreciate their unselfishness and their sacrifice. (2) Good magazines in abundance are distributed to wounded veterans by a large group of enthusiastic members of the Junior Class; later these fortunate boys and girls were taken on a tour through an occupational therapy section.

As Jeff Visits Veterans

(3) Lovely refreshments, games, and magazines carried by the Girl Reserves to the hospital, are enjoyed by the boys. (4) Singing the ever inspiring "Star Spangled Banner," Thespians bring to an end their colorful show in the hospital's recreation hall. (5) Enthralled by the art of the magician with the ~~Thespian~~ Mask and Gaze show, the patients admit that he is really good. (6) Long lines of Hayne boys! Lovely M.J.R. girls! Never a more inspiring sight was there than this one. And the show, truly entertaining, is enjoyed by the boys who have just returned from the combat zone.

Our Interest Deep

(1) At Brooke General Hospital Miss McFarland's cooking classes get first hand information from Captain Nell Wickliffe, who explains how balanced menus are prepared for the patients. (2) Today's young people are enthusiastically interested in the care of America's children, our future citizens. Through the nursery windows Glee Club members get a glimpse of some "G.I. babies" of Brooke General Hospital.

On Inspection Trips

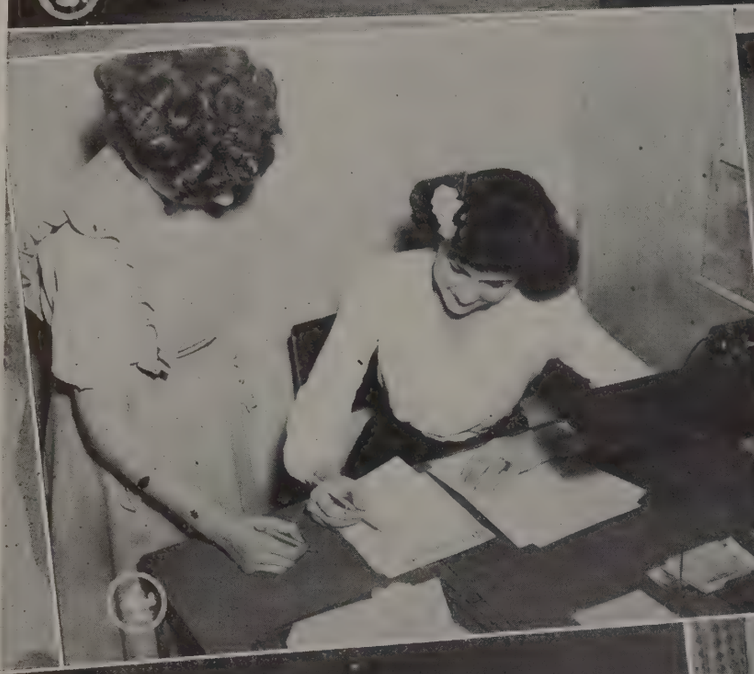

Upper: — Members of the Girl Reserves, always noted for their love of service work, receive a real thrill from their visit to the Children's Ward of Brooke General Hospital. Lower: — Interested library assistants visit the beautiful medical library at Brooke General Hospital; Mrs. Lucille Curb, librarian, greets the young visitors from Jefferson and explains the medical library's system.

Varied School Interests

(1) The Boys' Glee Club, the Girls' Glee Club, and the Girls' Cadet Corps Glee Club, united under the direction of Mrs. Estaline Mayfield, present a beautiful assembly. (2) An ambitious girl, learning the mysteries of salesmanship at Joske's, is one of many Jefferson students interested in distributive education. (3) These students are shown arranging an attractive display of books under the guidance of Mr. Dugosh at Wolff and Marx. (4) Working in the stock room at Frost Brothers proves interesting and worthwhile. (5) Checking charge slips is another intriguing occupation of the distributive education students. (6) The

Appeal To All

Radio Club plans the regular Wednesday W.J.R.C. broadcast; these programs are the pride of the Radio Club members and the delight of the student body. (7) The G.I. Jamboree master-of-ceremonies talks to Mr. Rogers, Charles Parker, and Charles Sawtelle at the end of the show. (8) Joan Gay Harris dances before an appreciative audience during the Skelton Majestic. (9) Thespian officers talk over their plans for future successes with their capable sponsor, Mrs. Dodd. (10) Members of the Shakespeare Club join in a grand finale to their excellent show and sing their beautiful club song.

★ ★ Jefferson's School Life

Truly an asset to Jefferson is (1) our outstanding School Orchestra, one of the most faithful and most co-operative organizations in our school. This group of boys and girls and their talented director, Mr. Zoeller, not only play innumerable times for civic affairs, but they also play well their part in every school activity, playing for all assemblies and shows to the delight of appreciative students. The Jefferson orchestra is caught by the camera during one of its rare moments of inactivity at its very beautiful assembly. (2) Under the capable direction of its sponsor, Mr. Jerome Zoeller, our beautiful School Band has always been an asset to the school life on our campus, at all football games, and wherever the band may go. These blue-and-red-uniformed music makers play well their part in making every school affair a memorable occasion,

Of Wide Variety

climaxing their service work on graduation night. (3) Happy Jeffersonian Forum members and their friends enjoy dancing to melodic music furnished by Jeff's own nickelodeon, the deeply appreciated gift of the Parent Teachers' Association. (4) Officers of the Jeffersonian Forum very proudly present their mascots at the Jeff-Shake Valentine Dance. (5) Miss Wolf, Miss Smith, Mrs. Fuller, and the class officers enjoy the Junior Class dance. (3) Thespian Club girls show their loyalty by forming into a "T", symbolic of their club. (7) Mrs. Mary E. Hickman and her girls of the Shakespeare Club enjoy a social at the lovely home of Mary Ann Lewis. (8) Introducing something wonderful and entirely new, the Jefferson Radio Club members broadcast their initial "wired wireless" program to the entire school.

INSPECTION ★ TRIPS

Upper. — Martha Skelton Literary Society members intently watch a demonstration of life-giving blood plasma being administered to the wounded. The girls look on with admiration for the great medical minds responsible for such wonders and with the realization that similar treatments are being administered on all the world battlefronts every day. Lower: — Latin Club officers are amazed to see a wounded soldier receiving the "whirlpool treatment" in the Hydro-Therapy section of Brooke General Hospital.

AT ★ BROOKE ★ GENERAL

Upper: — Watching a blood test made by Vivi Lueders, laboratory technician at Brooke General Hospital, proves very interesting to these Jefferson science students, who may be the important scientists and doctors of the future. Lower: — The electro-cardiograph, one of the miracles of modern science, is of great interest to the Shakespeare officers; this machine, which records the number of heart beats, is explained by Mrs. Raming, who was the managing editor of the MONTICELLO in her senior year at our school.

(1) Fortunate members of our science classes see deep mysteries as Mary Block, laboratory technician at Brooke General Hospital, explains how a millionth of a drop of Penicillin solution placed on a surface prevents the growth of bacteria, as shown by the clear spots in the Petri-dish she is holding. (2) These members of our science classes seem entranced by the chemical demonstration of Private Alexander, laboratory technician; they realize how close their own school work is to the war's early success.

Another Lasso Honor

Lassos Honor "Elsie's" Mechanical Counterpart

MILK IS A FIGHTING FOOD! And this huge Borden truck has been doing its part in the war effort — delivering tens of thousands of bottles of BORDEN'S MILK and other BORDEN'S FINE DAIRY PRODUCTS to military fields, camps, and hospitals near San Antonio. Great admirers of "Elsie," the Borden cow, and great friends, too, of the Borden Company, the Lassos show their admiration and friendship — by saluting this Borden truck when it pays a visit to Jefferson High School.

(1) One of the three Occupational Therapy sections of Brooke General Hospital is visited by some members of the Senate Club; they are shown rug weaving, done by one of the patients, Private Boone of North Carolina, assisted by Miss Ruth Butler, Senior Occupational Aide; this visit followed a wonderful service trip to the hospital. (2) En masse, the Jefferson Band members go out to Brooke General to try to show those boys who have given so much "over there" that we back home are grateful. From the applause the band received, the program was received royally. (3) At the Masque and Gavel show patients of the Brooke General Hospital are very much amused by a short play given by a few of Jefferson's young actors. (4) Five club presidents are seen going through the line of the Main Mess of Brooke General Hospital and choosing a complete balanced meal. Evidently the Jefferson students think it is pleasant to be at the Brooke General Hospital if the meals are any example of the treatment received there.

All The World's A Stage

(1) Winning honors for Jefferson, these twenty-eight winners in the 1944 Invitational Speech Contest, held at Jefferson on March 31, have a good reason to be happy. It seems unbelievable, but they did win ten first places. First place winners were Jaimie Jean Nickless, best extemporaneous speaker for girls; Stanley Goodwyn, best original monologuist; Frank Rosengren, best radio speaker for boys and best declaimer for boys; Arnold Grubin and Lois Farnsworth Kirkpatrick, best readers of poetry; Charline Burford, best radio speaker for girls; Betty Ingram, best declaimer for girls; Lydia Landon, best in initiative in managing meets. (2) Original and entertaining is Jaga Long's talented band at the Senior Frolic. (3) Ferdinand, alias Preston Dial, portrays this shy character in the Senate Show; the vicious toreador is Bernard Syfan. (4) The Bull Durham Boogers' rendition of "The Crash On The Highway" makes Melvin Popham hold his head; this actually took place during the Senior Frolic, believe it or not. (5) For a much more serious occasion the unusually attentive audience find themselves listening to an impressive speech by General Beach of Brooke General Hospital at the assembly dedicated to him. (6) Presenting plans for the '44 yearbook, the MONTICELLO Staff very proudly tell of another beautiful book.

As Jefferson's Curtain Rises

Just a few of the multitude of honors received in our school this year! In (1) the very highest national and state honor winners are shown (left to right): ARTHUR FLORES, winner of a $50 war bond in the National Hearst American history awards; ANN RICKS, winner of medal and first place in feature writing in National Quill and Scroll contest, winner of first place in South Central states for advertising writing in Quill and Scroll contest, honorable mention in National Anthology of High School Poetry; FRANK ROSENGREN, first place winner in state in American Legion declamation contest, second place winner in regional and National, honorable mention in National Anthology of High School Poetry; BETTY INGRAM, winner of first place and Quill and Scroll medal for being one of the ten best headline writers in the United States; DICK PORTWOOD, first place and medal in National Quill and Scroll contest for being one of the ten best sports writers in the United States. This is the second time this honor has come to Dick. Ann, Betty, and Dick thus attain eligibility for the $4,000 scholarship to any school of journalism in the United States. (Not shown in picture are CECELIA ESSERICK, winner in regional Script-Crafters' poetry contest; MELVIN POPHAM, winner of a place in the National Anthology of High School Poetry.) (2) Representatives of the eight advisories that were one hundred per cent in P.T.A. receive their $3.00 prizes (please see pages 146 and 147). (3) An inspiration to all of us is the dedication of our school's Service Flag, here shown with Cdt. Colonel Williamson, Mr. Rogers, our Colonel McShane, just returned from Salerno, and Cdt. Colonel Ruby. In (4) are the nominees for Student Council president — a real honor. (5) Proudly the three club presidents receive their Monticello checks from Editor Simcock — Lois Farnsworth Kirkpatrick of the Shakespeares, Betty Hovel of the M.J.R.'s, and Charles Sawtelle of the Senate. (6) Such a large crowd of parents and friends really does us honor. (7) Real winners, this time of a Monticello, are Joe Ruby, Jack McCaleb, Nick A. Saigh, Beverly Ruth Mell, Bobby Monroe, and Tommy Burns. (Not in picture are Powell England and Betty Anne Lewis.) (8) Something distinctive is the Rifle Drill Team of the Girls' Cadet Corps.

September 17 — Jefferson's Mustangs started a year of football off right by defeating the Sam Houston Tigers 47-0. Although the regulars were on the bench for half the game, the Nags proved too much for the overpowered Tigers. Grieder, McKissack, and Samuels paved the way to an easy Jefferson victory. September 25 — The Nags won their second game of the season over the Milby Buffalos, a strong opponent; the Nags, paced by McKissack, Samuels, and Meader, made three touchdowns to win 18 to 6. October 1 — Suffering their first defeat of the season in a hard-fought game, the Mustangs lost 7-0 in one of the year's biggest upsets to the Waco Tigers. Despite the determined stand of the Mustangs, the Waco team held their ground during the entire game, but we were able to make one touchdown. McKissack, Samuels, Sparkman, Shefts, and Lipke led the Red and Blue. October 8 — The mighty Mustangs, led by Perry Samuels, tramped the Laredo Tigers 48-0 in the first 15AA game played this year. Speedy Samuels galloped to four touchdowns, with Dick McKissack also helping to run up the score. Jefferson simply outplayed the Tigers during the entire game. October 14 — In a mighty display of power, Jefferson defeated the Brownsville Eagles 57-0. Leading the Mustangs to victory were Samuels, who scored three touchdowns, and Kenny, who scored two; McKissack, Worrell, Biles, and Meader followed close with one touchdown each. October 22 — Although this important game seemed one-sided from a spectator's viewpoint, the Corpus Christi Buccaneers held the Nags to only two touchdowns, and the game ended in a tie, 12-12. The Buccaneers held off many of the scoring threats of Jefferson, but the Mustangs stayed close to the Buccaneers' goal. Outstanding in this game were McKissack, Samuels, Shefts, and Lipke. November 6 — The football future of the Nags took a turn for the better as the Mustangs beat the powerful Austin Maroons 7-0. Before a howling stadium of Jefferson supporters, McKissack, Samuels, and Grieder paced the Red and Blue to their first victory over the Maroons since 1937. The entire Mustang squad played a bang-up game that rocked the Maroons and left them dazed and no longer "King of Texas High School Football." November 12 — The Jefferson Mustangs trampled the Tivy Antlers and came out of the fray victors by a 52-0 score. The Red and Blue scored in every quarter to remain undefeated in 15AA play. Not once did the Antlers get past the Jefferson thirty-yard line. Jefferson was able to score almost at will, as they had little trouble with the usually tough Antlers. Samuels, McKissack, Kenny, Worrell, Boston, and Rowan provided the score for the might Mustangs. November 19 — In their last game before the traditional Thanksgiving fray, the Horses walloped the Tech Buffs by a score of 49-6. After Perry Samuels led the way, it was a simple matter for the Mustangs to score again and again. Samuels, McKissack, Abbott, Jones, Grieder, and Boston led the way to an easy victory. November 25 — With everything at stake, the Jefferson Mustangs, the school behind them, met the Brackenridge Eagles in the traditional "Turkey-Day" game. A win or a tie would make the Mustangs 15AA champions. For a while the Eagles took the offensive, but the Mustangs rallied, Samuels got in the clear, and the score was made 6-0. In the third quarter, Brackenridge, led by Means and Westkaemper, tied the score, kicked the point, and Jefferson was behind, 6-7. Meader, in the fourth quarter, recovered a fumble on the Brackenridge 30-yard line. Speedy Perry Samuels again scored, and "Big Dick" McKissack kicked the point. The remainder of the game was played deep in Brackenridge territory with fumbles preventing the Mustangs from scoring again. Perry Samuels was the shining star of the game, but the strong red and blue line deserves worlds of praise. Jefferson won 13-7 to become district champions as well as city champs. December 3 — Scoring again and again, the mighty Mustangs crushed the unbeaten McAllen Bulldogs 44-12. This surprising victory moved the Mustangs one step farther toward the state championship. Perry Samuels took the lead, scoring more than half the touchdowns. The entire Jefferson squad played splendid football to win this important bi-district championship — the first such championship in our school's history. December 11 — Fighting hard, the Jefferson Mustangs scored against the hitherto un-scored-upon Goose Creek Ganders, but lost the game 13-52. Our team has done better this year than any other Jefferson team has ever done. The spirit which they have shown has been a fine example to all Jefferson.

Mighty Mustangs

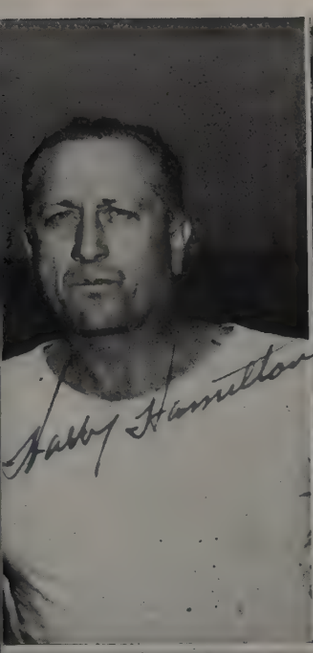

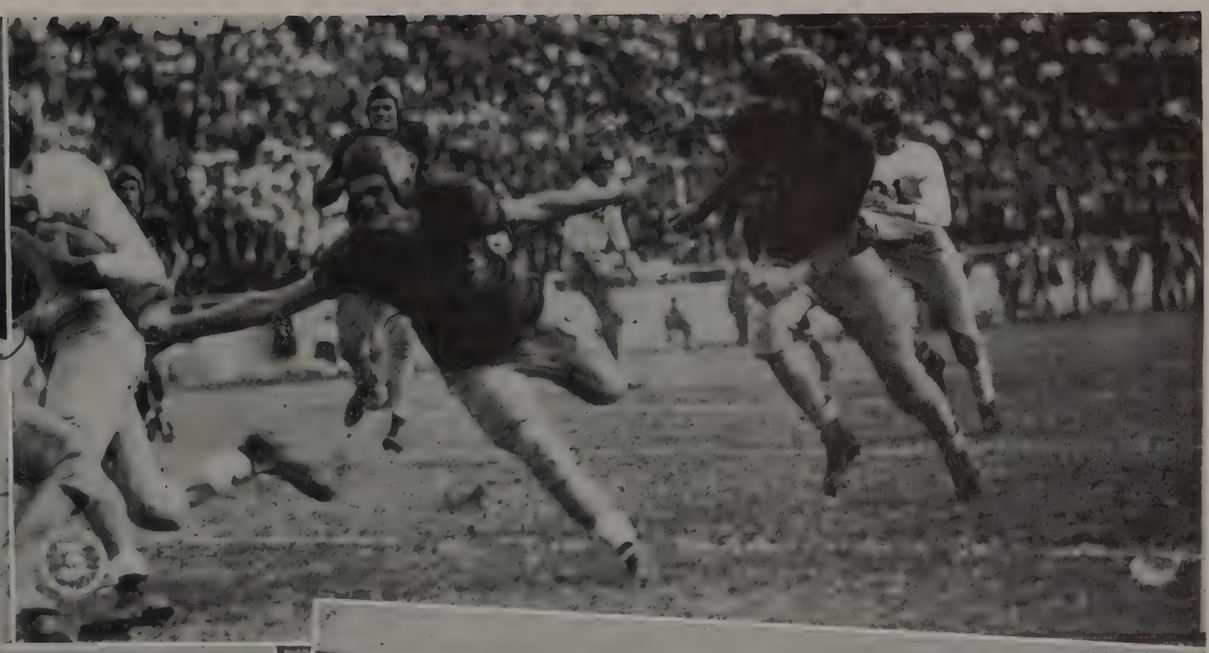

(1) One of Brackenridge's top players, Frank Means, breaks through the off tackle for a long gain, but our mighty Mustangs fight hard against the play. (2) Much of the success and glory of our football team is due to the capable and patient leadership of our two coaches, "Bones" Irvin and Harry Hamilton. (3) Top man Means of Brackenridge again goes over one of our tackles, but his gain is checked, as Guy Worrell (36) and Morton Shefts (42) follow closely for a tackle. (4) Tom Watt, another Brackenridge player, breaks through our line but is checked in the play as Dick McKissack (44) and Eric Lipke (40) stop his actions. (5) It was a thrilling moment in the Brackenridge-Jefferson Thanksgiving Day game when one of Brackenridge's players attempted a center plunge but was stopped by Clay Browne, backed up by Dick McKissack. (6) A spectacular moment in the game came when Erfurth of Brackenridge (23) clutched a forward pass from another member of his team but was hindered by Browne and Lipke's readiness to make the tackle.

January 7 — After weeks of hard training, Jeff's fighting Mustangs opened the basketball season with a 22-18 win over Brackenridge, our traditional foe. Although the Eagles made a good score, this game was a decisive victory for our team. January 12 — Through the outstanding work of Hovel and Lutz the Nags defeated Tech by a score of 30-25. January 18 — Defeat was dealt to the Mustangs by the Lanier Voks in the Brackenridge gym. Although the Nags fought hard the Voks came out on top by chalking up 29 points to Jeff's 17. January 21 — The Mustangs lost a hard-fought game to Austin, the score being 39-30. Displaying a long-range firing attack, the Maroons led the Mustangs in scoring through the whole game and came out ahead in the end. January 24 — Opening the second round of the city tournament, Jeff trounced Tech 30-20. High-point men of this game were Billy Hovel and Guy Worrell, who scored nine points each. January 25 — The Nags clinched the City Title by beating Brackenridge 27-20 in one of the season's most hard-fought games, led by Nick Lutz and Morton Shefts. January 28—The Mustangs lost a hard-fought game to Austin, 40-32. February 1 — The Nags tamed Central with a 36-19 victory. February 3 — Tech proved an easy opponent, as we scored a 52-20 triumph. Led by Nick Lutz, who scored twenty points, the Mustangs unleashed a dazzling attack against an opponent who was unable to meet and stop it. February 8 — The Mustangs won the City Title for the fourth straight year, defeating Brackenridge 29-27, thus ending the City Series undefeated. February 12-13 — With Jeff and Austin favored, the District 15AA Basketball Tournament was opened, and the Nags defeated Corpus Christi 30-21 in their first game of the day. They were not so successful in their second game, however. Although the Nags played a great game, the Austin Maroons beat them 32-22. The Mustangs came back later in the evening, however, to win over Laredo 36-7. The Mustangs lost the District 15AA crown when they were beaten by Austin, the score being 42-36. They did not lose their spirit, however, and their determined stand against their opponent was cheered by everyone. Our basketball team has been a real credit to the school this year. The boys have fought every one of their games valiantly, and, win or lose, they have done great work.

Dribble to Glory

Flyin' Charlie Parker

WHO IS HE? He's the Sprint King with the wonder feet. He's the Pony Express, the Blond Bullet, the Flying Mustang, the King of the Cinder Paths. He's the seventeen-year-old wonder that set two new national records at the state meet in '43: the century dash in 9.5 and the 220 in 20.6. He's Flyin' Charlie Parker, Student Council president with a straight "A" record all the way through school. He's the lad whose ability, physique, personality, friendliness, and attitude toward competitors as well as teammates have earned him an enviable record that runs like this:

Has raced in all meets at which records were kept.

Has won 49 straight victories in the 100 and 220-yard dashes also 95 preliminaries and semi-finals.

Holds seventeen sprint records and shares in three.

Owns 8 marks in the century and 9 in the furlong; shares in two records in the 100 and one in the 220.

Shares in the 440 record of Jefferson at every meet.

Holds both records in these meets: Border Olympics; Edison invitational; City; Alamo Heights invitational; Sub-Regional; Regional; State meet; Texas relays.

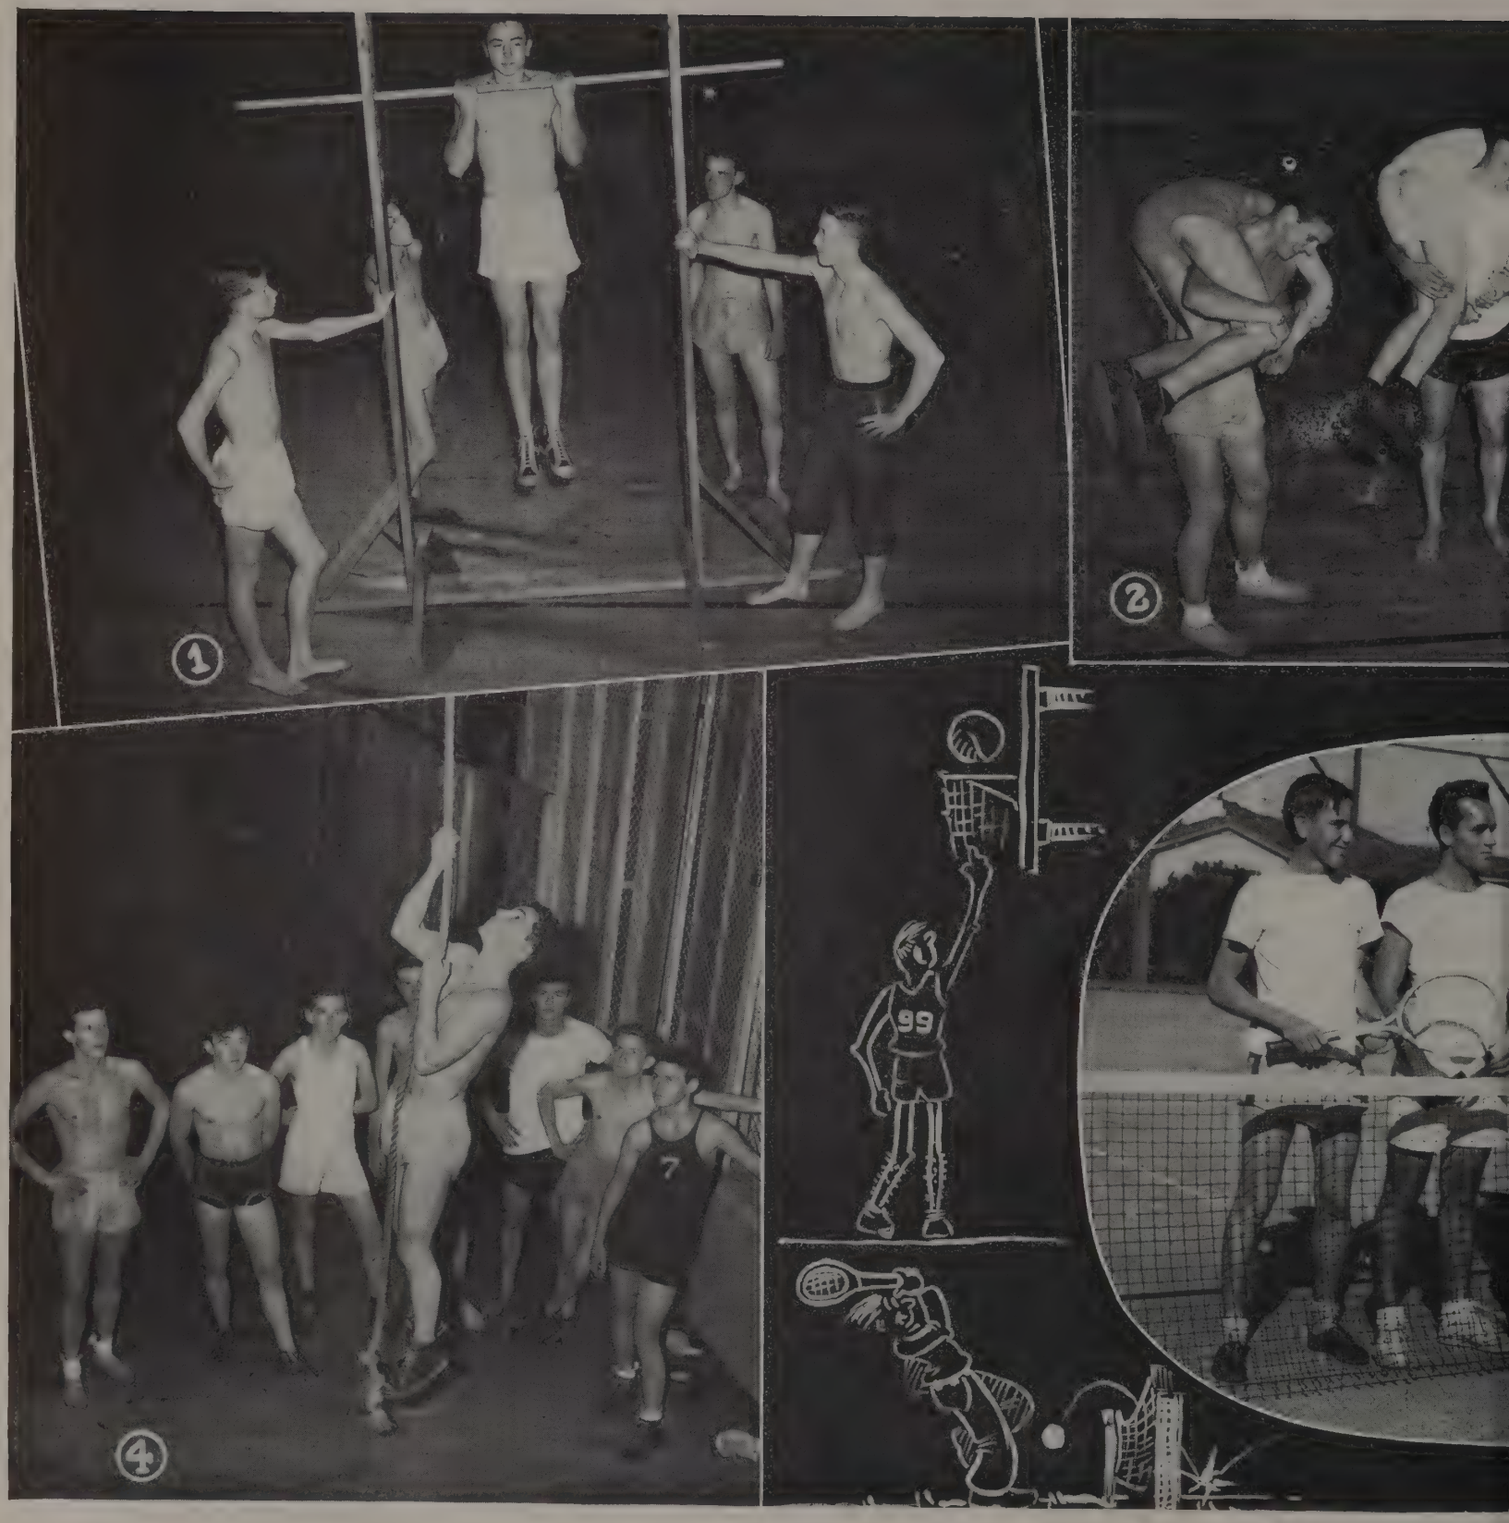

Holds 220 record at Fort Worth's Exposition meet.

Shares in the 100 and 220-yard dashes at the San Antonio invitational meet. GREAT GUY! GREAT RUNNER!

March 10 — The Jefferson Mustangs successfully defended their Border Olympics title in the eight-events annual meet at Laredo, gathering 31 points to Brackenridge's 27. The 440-yard relay team of Samuels, Merkel, Doyle, and Parker turned in a win. Biles, Jones, Balderas, and Moore finished second to Brackenridge in the mile relay. Third place winners were Sparkman in the shot put, Merkel in the 440, and Moore in the 880. Closely pushing Parker, winner of the 100-yard dash in 10.1 and the 200-yard dash in 22.2, was Samuels. Parker galloped a lap on the sprint relay team, time 45.1. March 17-18 — Again Jefferson defeated all opponents at the Southwestern Track Meet in Fort Worth, coming through with 28 points to Brackenridge's 27½. Jefferson flashed to victory in the 440-yard relay. Parker of Jefferson, again closely pushed by Samuels, won the 100-yard dash also the 220-yard dash, with Samuels third. The football relay was won by Jefferson in 47.4. In the broad jump Worrell of Jefferson was second with 21 feet, 3¼ inches; also he tied for second in the high jump. Sparkman, with 147 feet, 9 inches was second in the discus throw. April 1 — In Austin, at the Texas Relays, the speedy feet of the Mustangs again tapped out a victory of 28 points to the Eagles' 20. Jeff's Pony Express, Parker, romped to victory in the 100-yard and the 220-yard dashes, with Samuels second. Parker anchored the 440-yard relay and the 440-yard football relay team to victory. Biles ran third in the 440. April 5 — At the City Track Meet the Jeff Mustangs were nosed out 71½ — 66½ by Brackenridge. Parker lowered the 100-yard dash to 9.8, with Samuels only one yard behind at the wire. Parker won the 220-yard dash in 22 seconds, with Samuels a close second. Sparkman tossed the discus 144 feet, 6 inches. Parker anchored Biles, Merkel, and Balderas to a record of 3 minutes, 35 seconds in the quarter-mile. April 21 — At the San Marcos regional meet the Jeff Mustangs and the Brackenridge Eagles staged a deadlock for first place, each team rolling up 44 points. With Jefferson needing only one point to tie Brackenridge, Biles ran an anchor lap that beat the Eagle man by 5 yards and gave the Nags the needed point. Parker erased one of his own records; he ran the 220 in 21.3, and he tied his own 1943 century mark of 9.8, Perry Samuels pushing very close in both races. Big Sparkman reached a new high of 150 feet, 11½ inches in the discus heave. May 5 — Scoring 31½ points, the largest total ever scored in the State meet since 1910, the Jeff Mustangs clinched the State Championship in Austin, although the odds were against them. Highlights were Parker's 100-yard dash in 9.6 and the 220 in 20.7; Worrell's great leap of 22 feet 10½ inches in the broad jump; Sparkman's brilliant heave of the discus 155 feet 7 inches; and the sprint relay team's thrilling record of 43.1 in which Doyle, Biles, Samuels, and Parker were the shining speedsters.

Upper: — These future champion golfers begin young. Our golf boys get in trim shape for this year's season; Jefferson's best stand around with eyes riveted to the demonstration, trying to get into trim shape before the tournament. Left to right are Ruby, Browning, McCaleb, Carnes, England, Saigh, Adams, Harkins, Glasberg, and Clegg. Lower: — These two boys demonstrate tumbling to a physical fitness class. Our boys' physical fitness classes are doing a great deal toward strengthening the boys' muscles and making perfection their goal.

In these war times physical skill is very important, as the future defenders of our American democracy must be strong. Our gym provides boys every chance to grow strong as they enjoy healthful exercise. (1) Chinning a verical bar is no easy task; it takes muscles to pull one's own weight up to the bar. (2) Learning to use the "fireman's carry" is important, as some injured buddy on the battlefield may need it some day. (3) In the U.S. Army, Judo is the American soldiers' defense against enemies' jiu-jitsu; in our gym our boys learn the art. (4) Boys wait eagerly for their turn at the rope. (5) Jefferson Boys' tennis team, composed of George Bird Livesay, Robert Bob Hendrix, Bob Tolle, J. C. Morgan, Harold Wright, and Bob Lane, has taken great strides in their victories. (6) A friendly bout it seems, but it will serve these boys in good stead later.

A nation must have physical fitness. Our gym provides a variety of skills so that our girls need not be softies. (1) "Chin-up" girls Ann and Rae brave the chinning bar with perfect results. (2) Jefferson's famous Lassos demonstrate their ability in another one of their colorful formations, an intricate design. (3) In order to pass the physical fitness course one hundred per cent, each girl must be able to climb up ten feet of rope; here Catherine demonstrates Commando climbing. (4) Distance throwing of volley balls is an excellent exercise for the development of arm muscles. (5) A lively game of volley-ball engages the attention of several Judy-Jeffersons. (6) Patsy anxiously tries her hand, or foot, at the standing broad-jump. (7) Energetic young girls run the fifty-yard dash to develop good wind and endurance. (8) The tennis team, includes, left to right, Robbie Mae Scruggs, Merry Bliss Keene, Janis Reed, Patricia Van Rensselaer, Grace Frazier, Bettye Gene Morgan, Rose Bush, Mildred Steele.

GRADUATES OF 1944... Congratulations!

Joske's and the youth of Southwest Texas have long been "good companions" . . . For Joske's is more than just a store; it's a personality—always hospitable, always ready to serve you through large stocks, newest fashions, and values that let you keep your budget. Young folks like the warm friendliness of this store and you see them often, buying with the confidence they place in a real friend.

Because of this deep friendship between youth and a store, Joske's has grown steadily greater. It's now considered one of the most beautiful stores in America . . . like a whole city of shops under one roof — always waiting to please you, your family, your friends.
